SAVARESSE'S CAPSULES

CONTAINING ENGLISH OIL OF YELLOW SANDALWOOD.

THE PHYSIOLOGICAL peculiarity of Savaresse's Capsules is that the organic membrane of which they are made so resists the action of the gastric juice that they rarely dissolve in the stomach: this avoids nausea, eructations, and indigestion and brings the medicine, undiluted, nearer to the seat of Disease. Price Rs. 2-8 per box.

SIMPLE PHOSPHORUS PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 5), containing 1-20th gr. Phosphorus.
Dr. KIRBY says: "Experience fully warrants the administration of Phosphorus in this dose" in severe attacks of Neuralgia and cases of extreme Nervous Exhaustion; it gives excellent results, taken with food three or four times a day.

PHOSPHORUS AND QUININE PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 3), containing 1-50th gr. Phosphorus.
This is a valuable combination of two powerful restoratives. As a nutrient tonic it gives power to the brain and spinal cord, imparts tone to the digestive organs, increases functional activity and improves the condition of the whole system. It is largely employed in India during convalescent stages of intermittent and remittent fevers. It is an excellent remedy for Malaise induced by the climate, and is a good prophylactic against Malaria.

PHOSPHORUS AND IRON PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 7), containing 1-50th gr. Phosphorus.
This is given with great advantage in Anæmia, Sciatica, and other Neuralgic affections, also in the treatment of convalescence from fever and other debilitating diseases. It is an excellent chemical food for anæmic children, and a good adjuvant to a course of cod liver oil.

PHOSPHORUS AND NUX VOMICA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula No. 6), containing 1-33rd gr. Phosphorus.
This combination is useful in all the cases named above, but especially in cases of feeble digestion and loss of power, following excesses. Taken regularly with food for a few weeks it has a powerfully renovating effect on broken-down constitutions.

PHOSPHORUS, QUININE AND NUX VOMICA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 4), containing 1-50th gr. Phosphorus.
The use of this combination will be gathered from what has been said of the previous Formulæ, Nos. 3 and 6.
For a similar combination with Iron, see No. 9.

COMPOUND PHOSPHORUS PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 9), containing 1-50th gr. Phosphorus, with Iron, Quinine and Strychnia.
This combination of nerve tonics has a very large application It is efficacious in all disorders which are characterised by impoverished blood and diminished nerve power, especially in that low condition of the general health which is induced by overwork, dissipation, and excesses of various kinds. In this state iron and phosphorus is strongly indicated. In Constitutional Syphilis it has a high remedial power, by improving the condition of the blood and by stimulating its regenerative power. It is exceedingly energising and strength-giving. As a tonic for convalescents recovering from fever and other exhausting diseases it is unequalled.

STRONG PHOSPHORUS, IRON, QUININE AND NUX VOMICA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 17), containing 1-25th gr. Phosphorus.
This is double the strength of No. 9 as regards Phosphorus and Quinine, and therefore should be prescribed only in cases where the larger dose of Phosphorus is needed.

PHOSPHORUS, CANTHARIDES & NUX VOMICA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 20), containing 1-33rd gr. Phosphorus.
This pill produces no irritation of the gastro-intestinal mucous membrane, but operates as a gentle stimulant to the genito-urinal organs. It is especially useful in premature failure of power, induced by passive discharges due to debility. It is useful also as a stimulating emmenagogue in obstinate cases of Amenorrhœa, Leucorrhœa, and Atony of the Uterus.
Formula No. 30 contains Iron, and as a tonic is most suitable for feeble, anæmic females.

PHOSPHORUS AND DAMIANA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 34), containing 1-33rd gr. Phosphorus.
The Extract in this pill is made from the True Damiana Plant ("Turnera Aphrodisiaca"), and is a valuable aid to Phosphorus when required as a remedy for impotence.

The above may be obtained from our appointed Agents, in Bottles, 3/-, 5/- and 10/- each (Englishmoney), the 10/- Bottle containing sufficient for a course of four weeks. Two 10/- Bottles may be obtained direct from our laboratory, carriage paid to any post town in India or Australia, by remitting us a Post Office order for 21/

KEATING'S INSECT POWDER.

BUGS, FLEAS, MOTHS, BEETLES, and all other Insects are destroyed by KEATING'S INSECT DESTROYING POWDER, which is quite harmless to Domestic Animals. In exterminating Beetles, the success of this powder is extraordinary, and no one need be troubled by those pests. It is perfectly clean in application. Ask for, and take no other than "KEATING'S POWDER," as imitations are noxious, and fail in giving satisfaction. Sold by all Chemists in Tins and Bottles.

"LIFE IS NOT TO LIVE, BUT TO BE WELL."

SQUIBB'S BRACE-UP CORDIAL.—Everyone who has used this Preparation testifies that it is a pleasant Tonic and Stimulant, removing Fatigue and Languor. Its effects on the Brain is to stimulate that organ to greater activity and to relieve the mind of the depression incident to worry and anxiety. Students, Brain Workers, Clergymen, and Teachers can exert themselves beyond the natural enduring powers of using the Cordial. The activity of the mind when under its influence is greatly increased without the reaction following the use of Alcoholic Stimulants. It improves apetite, exhilarates Spirits, gives vigour and tone to the entire system, and produces sound sleep. Undoubtedly it is found of particular service to Convalescing, Dyspeptic, or Nervous Patients. Is a great Boon to all nervous students preparing for Examination as it unfailing banishes nervous fears at the time of examination, and strengthens memory. When used with a bottle of lemonade or Aerated Water it forms a most delicious pleasant palatable and refreshing tonic draught which allays thirst and creates an agreeable drink for Teetotallers. At Rs.2-4 of MESSRS. F. S. MADON and Co., Market; VALLI HOOSAN and Co., Fort; D. P. MADON and Co., Surat; JAMSHED and Co., Kurrachee, &c., &c.

DO YOU EVER

BUY WATCHES OR JEWELLERY?

If so, send a postcard and we will forward, gratis and post free, our elaborately illustrated Catalogue containing

ONE THOUSAND BEAUTIFUL ENGRAVINGS

Of Watches and Jewellery of very latest designs. Birmingham supplies the World with Jewellery, and you will be astonished at the difference between Indian and Birmingham prices. Send for the Catalogue at once, so as to have it at hand when you or your friends want to buy Jewellery. Orders for a single article will receive equal attention with large orders.

We guarantee safe delivery of any parcels, small or large, all being insured through to our customers. Orders for India are executed by return mail (except such as have to be made to special instructions); the delay is thus minimized, and it is worth waiting to secure latest styles and saving 50 per cent.

We are well known in England, but as fraudulent advertisements are sometimes inserted, we shall be very pleased to send Bankers' references and highest testimonials to residents in India who may desire to entrust the execution of large parcels to us.

We shall also be glad to hear from Traders desirous of doing business in Watches or Jewellery. Our prices are so different to those usually charged, that our goods always sell readily.

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION.

PULVERMACHER'S WORLD-FAMED GALVANIC BELTS, for the cure of NERVOUS EXHAUSTION and DEBILITY, have received Testimonials from THREE PHYSICIANS TO HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN and the leading Physicians of Nine London Hospitals, including Forty Members of the Royal College of Physicians of London.

The distressing symptoms of NERVOUS EXHAUSTION and DEBILITY are speedily removed by means of Pulvermacher's World-Famed Galvanic Belts, which are so arranged as to convey a continuous electric current direct to the affected parts, gradually stimulating and strengthening all the nerves and muscles, and speedily arresting all symptoms of waste and decay.

Dr. C. HANDFIELD JONES, F.R.C.P., F.R.S., Physician to St. Mary's Hospital, says: "I am satisfied that Mr. PULVERMACHER is an honest and earnest labourer in the field of science, and I think he deserves to meet with every encouragement from the profession and scientific men."

Sir CHARLES LOCOCK, Bart., M.D., Physician to Her Majesty, says: "PULVERMACHER'S BELTS are very effective in Neuralgia and Rheumatic Affections, and I have prescribed them largely in my practice for other similar maladies, paralysis, &c."

For Full Price Lists and Particulars, see new Pamphlet, 'GALVANISM: NATURE'S CHIEF RESTORER OF IMPAIRED VITAL ENERGY." Post free from PULVERMACHER'S GALVANIC DEPOT, 194, REGENT STREET, LONDON, W. (ESTABLISHED OVER FORTY YEARS).

DR. J COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE,

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache or relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary sufferings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulation, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33 Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we think none better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their spurious there will be but evanescent. We could mutually instance ad nauseam of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnance and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholerain Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its speedy and invariable power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH on THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are sir, faithfully yours Symes &Co., Members of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he more than once swore to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp affixed to the medical testimony accompanying each bottle.

CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitation. Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, Russell Street, Bloomsbury; London.

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE G. I. P. R. INSTITUTE.—A large gathering assembled in the hall of this institute at Parel, on Friday, when the farce "To Paris and Back for £5" was enacted. The piece was well played and provided a merry night's amusement. Mr. A. C. Scott, the honorary secretary, and the executive who are mainly responsible for these social gatherings are to be complimented. The room was beautifully illuminated, the staging trim and artistic, and the "make-up" of the performers excellent. At the conclusion of the farce the hall was cleared for dancing, which was indulged in to a late hour.

PROFESSOR WYMAN AT THE COLUMBIA SKATING RINK.—To-night Professor Wyman, a gentleman of almost unheard-of proficiency in the art of rinking, will appear nightly at the Columbia Rink, which is now under new management, and will give an interesting performance on the rollers. Professor Wyman will also go through a daring performance on a built up tobagganing slide, entitled, "A Slide for Life," which has the reputation of being a novel exhibition of skill and courage. The slide consists of narrow planks erected to a great height, and whilst descending this on skates at a hight speed he jumps over the chairs.

GRANT COLLEGE MEDICAL SOCIETY.—The regular monthly meeting of the Grant College Medical Society was held in the College Library on Tuesday, when Dr. R. N. Khory, the President, occupied the chair and the following gentlemen were present:—Drs. Dadabhai Jamasji, H. C. Tavaria, D. A. D. Monte, Atmaram Pandurang, Khoja Abdulla, Dorabji Hormasji, W. K. Hatch, R. N. Rauina, R. K. Vacha, Vittal Balkrishna, M. D. Gama, J. A. Da Gama, D. D. Modi, S. D. Bharucha, D. D. Writer, K. E. Dadachanji, H. J. Appu, Jamnadas Premchand, L. J. Pinto, J. P. Nicolson, and N. N. Katrak, honorary secretary. After the minutes of the last meeting had been read and confirmed and Drs. K. C. Malegamvala, R. P. Vora, and A. Contractor proposed members of the Society, Dr. W. K. Hatch showed a specimen of the hydatid of the orbit, also a female patient with a very form of lupus of the nose of twenty years' duration in a healing condition; a patient from whom a malignant growth was removed after enucleation of the eyeball, and a specimen of stone. Dr. J. A. Da Gama then read a paper on cocine, history of its discovery, its uses, &c., which was followed by a very interesting discussion in which Drs. Khory, Hatch, Mody, Jamnadas, Cama, Bharucha, and Katrak took part. As many papers remained in arrears it was resolved that an extraordinary meeting be called for the purpose. After a vote of thanks to Drs. Hatch and Gama for their very important communications, the meeting dispersed.

THE NATIVE PRESS.

THE LATE SIR T. MADHAVRAO.

THE Rast Goftar states:—Raja Sir T. Madhavrao's death is regretted by the country, and his career of public utility in Native States is now recalled with grateful admiration. He was Prime Minister of Travancore, Indore and Baroda in succession, and in each of these States he left behind him the impress of his statesmanship and constructive ability. In Baroda he succeeded Mr. Dadabhai Naoroji, and had there the free and uninterrupted scope for the exercise of his powers which was denied to his distinguished predecessor. When he went to Baroda, the State had been rid of Malharrao Gaekwar, and there was no more any opposition from the British Resident to be met with. A young lad was nominated to the vacant throne, and the Minister being free to move along in the course chalked out by him and also, in some degree, for him, without any intermeddling or annoyance from Sovereign or Resident, the Minister could do what he considered best for the State. With the co-operation of British officials he blessed the kingdom with order evolved out of chaos.

THE Kaiser-i-Hind observes:—We regret the death of Dewan Sir T. Madhavrao who in his hey-day rendered such invaluable service to his country and to the Governments he had the honour to serve. We cannot say he was a statesman in the true sense of the word. That he was a brilliant administrator we are not prepared to deny. Summing up his political and administrative career in a word we may say he was a good example of the brilliant Indian Opportunist.

THE Gujerati discourses:—The death of Sir T. Madhavrao, K. C. S. I., has removed one more statesman out of the three who have left a permanent impress upon the pages of Indian history. The late Sir Salar Jung, Sir T. Madhavrao, and Raja Dinkerrao formed a unique triumvirate in modern Indian history and it is sad to think how the old links are gradually falling off without any hope of their being adequately replaced. Sir T. Madhavrao was endowed by nature with talents of a very superior order. His capacious mind had fully imbibed the lessons of modern culture, and his domestic surroundings were highly favourable to the formation of that high character for which the illustrious statesman was so highly esteemed throughout this country and England.

THE Subodha Patrika states:—The Raja was undoubtedly a great statesman of modern days equalled only by Sir Salar Jung and no other. His powerful mind enlightened by English education and coming in contract with the practical working of English and Native systems of Government and also with English and Native Society grasped fully the characteristics of each and arrived at sound conclusions. When placed in charge of a Native State he tried to adopt in it the best suggestions the English system offered and conceived the duty of Government to be to place within reach of every subject at one or two hour's journey the means of obtaining education, justice, medical relief, and postal communication. This small programme covers the whole of enlightened Government and he did his best to carry it out in the two States which were placed under his charge.

HAVING read from time to time in the London papers that the police here find difficulty in securing cabs for the conveyance of prisoners arrested in numbers to the lock-up, Mr. Consul Fonblanque directs att

To be had at the Bombay Gazette Office, Albert Buildings, Esplanade, Fort.

LAWRENCE & MAYO, (OPHTHALMIC OPTICIANS.)

SPECTACLES to benefit the sight must be exactly adapted for correcting the particular defect for which they are designed.

The first important step, therefore, is to get the refraction accurately defined, and all necessary measurements taken. Spectacles are then prepared specially in accordance with the requirements of each case, and it is only when thus precisely adapted that beneficial effects can be relied upon.

Astigmatism, a common enough complication, can only be corrected in this way. Ordinary spectacle vendors never attempt it, or at most can forward an oculist's formula to Europe. In our own Factory any kind of lens can be cut at a few days' notice, whether opherical, cylinder, both combined, or bifocal.

LAWRENCE & MAYO'S VIOLET NEUTRAL TINTED GLARE-GLASSES

Are the best protection for the eyes from sun and dust. They can also be supplied with any power needed to correct the refraction.

MR. JAS I FELLOWS,

DEAR SIR,—

"I find one class of patients entirely overlooked in your pamphlet, Part III., for whom I have prescribed your Syrup with the greatest advantage for years—I mean CHILDREN OF EUROPEAN PARENTS BORN IN INDIA. I need hardly describe what they often look like when sent over to this country—rickety, thin, precocious, and frequently scrofulous. In such cases "Syr. Hypophos. Fellows" is the best restorative that I am acquainted with."

Yours very truly,

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

BOMBAY MARKET REPORT.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 17.

WITH a steady Exchange, and unusually cheap Money, business in Exports is less active than might be looked for at this busy part of the season. The principal staple has continued to be dull and declining, with transactions on a small scale, both for exporter's and local spinner's account; and though, on some days, a good deal has been done in Wheat (which is arriving very freely) the volume of business passing has, on the whole, diminished; while for Seeds only a moderate demand has been felt, though prices have partially hardened. Rates of Exchange, when the Banks closed last evening for a native holiday to-day, were only 1-32d. below our closing quotations of last Friday, a fair amount of Mercantile Paper having been placed in the interval; but the enquiry for Bank remittance has been very slack. Government Paper, after some fluctuations, has returned to the price quoted in our last report for Four per cents. Freights have been firm at enhanced rates; but much recent business is reported to have been done on speculation. In Imports a fair business has been done in staple goods on the basis of previous rates.

MONEY.—The absence of any movement in the rates of discount last week indicated the continuance of the unusual condition of ease in the Money Market, which has been a remarkable financial feature of the present season; and the Statement of Affairs of the Presidency Bank issued on Monday afternoon showed the situation, as far as that institution was concerned, to have been virtually unchanged last Saturday from that disclosed at the end of the previous week. The slight decrease of some three lakhs shown by the Return is neither here not there at this time of the year, and only a portion of this diminution was done to trade requirements, the net increase of which, owing to some increase in loans and a slight falling off in Private Deposits on the one hand, and a trifling decrease in Bills Discounted on the other, was represented by 1¾ lakh. The feeling in the open market continues as easy as before; and as no change was deemed necessary at the board meeting yesterday afternoon, the minimum rate of the Bank of Bombay remains at 5 per cent. per annum.

EXCHANGE opened on last mail day with an easy feeling at Friday's closing rates of 1s. 5 3-32d. for Demand Bank Bills, and 1s. 5 5-16d. for three months' sight Credits; and the market was steady thereat all day, with little or no fresh business passing, as usual, now on a Saturday. The same rates were quoted at opening on Monday morning in a steady market, and closed at an advance of 1-32d. Merchants' Bills were placed to a fair extent in the morning at 1s. 5 5-16d. for April delivery, for three months' sight Credits; but in the afternoon nothing below 11-32d. could be done. There was not much passing in the Bank media of remittance; but Telegraphic was quoted at 1s. 5½d. for May and 1s. 5 5-32d. for June transfer. On Tuesday the market was quiet but steady all day at Monday's closing rates, both for Bank and Private Paper. A few Merchants' Bills were placed at 1s. 5 11-32d. for three months' sight Credits; and a little Bank Telegraphic was done at 1s. 5 1-16d. for near transfer; but beyond this, hardly any business was passing either way. A weaker feeling was evident on Wednesday morning, one Bank having been a keen buyer of three months' sight Credits at 1s. 5 5-16d. to the middle of May, and at 1s. 5 11-32d. to the middle of June, and later of Bank Telegraphic and Demand at 1s. 5 1-16d. and 1s. 5 3-32d., respectively, a fair business, resulting. Apart from this, and some francs at 1·82½ to mid-May, and 182½ to mid-June, and a sale of Bills for all May 1s. 5 5-16d. nothing to speak of was done; and Bank Paper continued in small demand. Yesterday the market opened quiet at 1-32d. decline from Wednesday evening's rates, and closed without further movement. A fair amount of three months' sight sterling Credits were sold at 1s. 5 9-32d. and Francs at 1·82, for delivery well into May; and at 1s. 5 5-16d. and 1·82½ respectively, for all June; but very little was done in Bank Paper. A considerable proportion of Merchants' Paper is now sold in Francs, owing to the large shipment of Produce to Marseilles, a line of a million Francs being not uncommon.

MONEY.—The Banks having been closed to-day for a native holiday, we quote last evening's as our closing rates, say

Bank Bills on Demand	.....	1s. 5 1-16d.

GOVERNMENT PAPER was first quoted last Saturday morning at 106 7-16 for Fours for the April account; but Calcutta coming lower, the rate gave way a little; towards the close, however, buyers came forward, and the final rates were 105½ for cash, 105⅛ for the next settlement, and 105 3-16 for the first June account. On Monday the market was active, a Bank having come out as a buyer, and some advance in rates for Fours, both for Money and Account was established. At one time, the cash price was quoted at 105⅞, with the two accounts at 105 9-16, and 105 5-16, respectively but at the close, quotations were 105⅜ for Money, 105⅛ for the next settlement, and 105⅛ for the June account. The feeling was weak at opening on Tuesday at about ⅛ per cent. below Monday evening's quotations for Fours; but eventually the market became steady at the decline, and closed at 105⅛ for cash, 105⅛ for the next settlement, and 105 3-16 for the 1st June account. The feeling was quiet on Wednesday, without much movement in rates. One per cent. lower than Tuesday evening's rates for Fours was quoted both for Money and Account in the morning, and the feeling was steady at the slight decline, closing rates having been 105 7-16 for cash, 105 5-16 for the coming settlement, and 105⅛ for the 1st June account. Yesterday the market was quiet but steady at Wednesday's quotations for Four per cents; but at closing there was a weaker feeling, and 1-16 per cent. lower was named both for Money and Account. The market has been closed to-day for a native holiday, and our final quotations are consequently those of yesterday evening. 4½ per cents have been quoted throughout the week at 107½ nominal, but ⅛ per cent. less was named yesterday.

Municipal 5 per cent. Bonds are ¼ per cent. higher at 107: Port Trust Bonds are unchanged, at 101.

SHARES.—This market has been closed to-day for a native holiday; but during the days on which it has been open there has been fair enquiry for Cotton Mill Scrip, though very little doing in other directions. Compared with our quotations of last Friday this evening's rates show an advance of Rs. 50 in Dhun Mill shares; of Rs. 30 in Swadeshi; of Rs. 27½ in Manockjee Petit; of Rs. 25 each in Alliance, Luckmidas, Mahalukshmi, and Western India; of Rs. 15 in David and Soonderdas; of Rs. 10 in Queen, and Gordon; of Rs. 5 in Howard, Bullough; of Rs. 2½ in Mazagon; of Rs. 2 in Leopold; and of Re. 1¼ in Union; while, on the other hand, a decline is shown of Rs. 10 each in Hyderabad, Imperial, Khandesh, Khatao Mucconji, Hipon, and Hindustan; of Rs. 5 each in Jivraj Balloo, Central India, City of Bombay, Sholapur, and Sun; and of Rs. 2½ in Jamshed. In Miscellaneous shares, Badham, Pile are Rs. 4 higher; Kurrachee Landing have advanced Rs. 2½; Marcks and Co., Rs. 7 higher. Treacher and Co. have declined Rs. 10, and Phillips and Co. Rs. 5; Port Canning are Rs. 5 higher. Bank of Bengal shares have advanced Rs. 20 per share.

IMPORTS.

PIECE GOODS.—Dealers have been willing sellers of staples Grey Goods at current rates; and upcountry buyers have operated freely thereat. Stocks are decreasing but gradually, and prices, all round, may be taken as they ruled a week ago. In Bleached Goods, low and medium qualities of Jaconets, Nainsooks, and Mulls continue in good enquiry, especially for Cawnpore and Delhi, and rates are well maintained. Turkey Red Dye, and Printed Goods are unchanged in value. Zanzibar buyers of Local Goods have been operating pretty freely in the bazars, the sales of Zanzibar T. Cloths having amounted to 4,000 bales this week, and rates have advanced ¼ anna per lb. The Clearances of Imported Goods for the week are estimated at 3,800 packages; those of Local Goods at 5,000 bales.

YARNS.—Imported Twist has been quiet in tone at previous prices, and only a moderate business has transpired. Sales of Bombay Spinnings at Hongkong, Shanghai, and Japan for the fortnight which ended last Monday, are reported at 19,300 bales. Under ordinary circumstances the announcement of some 20,000 bales would have led to the establishmen of a rise of 1-16 to ⅛ anna per lb.; but the enquirers of spinners to sell large quantities forward has subsided, and the market closes steady, with a good enquiry at the following official quotations :—

Twist...	...No. 6s	Mule, As.	4¼	to 4½	per lb
" ...	... " 8s	"	4⅜	" 5	"
" ...	... " 10s	"	4⅜	" 5⅛	"

" ...	... " 24s	"	6¼	" 6⅝	"
" ...	... " 30s	"	7	" 7½	"
" ...	... " 40s	"	9

METALS.—Copper has been taken to a moderate extent during the past week, and the market closes steady at an advance of 4 annas per cwt. Yellow Metal is also steady, but only a small business has been done in this metal on the basis of previous rates. Iron has been in moderate demand, and steady in tone at last week's quotations.

COAL.—No fresh arrival business in this mineral has been reported during the week, but the market may be called steady with a probability of rates advancing. Sellers have been willing to give Powell's Duffryn and Davison's West Hartley, for April May shipment, at Rs. 15½ and Rs. 13½ per ton, respectively; but buyers are in the market for these descriptions for August-September shipment at Rs 16 for the former, and Rs. 14 for the latter, at which rates sellers are not disposed to operate.

EXPORTS.

COTTON.—In presence of unencouraging advices from the governing markets, and accumulating stocks of the staple here, neither exporters nor local consumers have been more than very languid buyers during the past week, and the business transacted has been upon a small scale, while the tone of the market has been dull throughout, prices having given way to some extent on Monday, and again the day before yesterday. The purchases for export during the week have not exceeded 4,000 bales, consisting chiefly of Bhownuggar and Mowa, Oomra varieties, and Bengals; and the Mills have taken about 5,500 bales, made up mainly of Oomra kinds Broach, and Dholleras descriptions. The market closed dull this evening with prices of Bhownuggar and Dharwar Rs. 5 lower, and others Rs. 1 to Rs. 2 lower than they were a week ago.

The Receipts of Cotton of this season's crop during the past week have been 75,400 bales, compared with 70,100 bales to hand in the previous week, and 102,500 bales received in the corresponding week last year; and the decrease in Receipts this season compared with last now stands at 116,500 bales.

The following are to-day's quotations for full-pressed Cotton with the equivalents in Sterling, Cost, and Freight to Liverpool, via Canal, without commission, viz. :—

WHEAT remained firm in tone to the close of last week, with only a moderate business passing, and prices all unchanged; but on Monday the price of White Pessy gave way 1 anna per cwt. making the quotations for the two qualities Rs. 5-1-0 and Rs. 5-0-0 per cwt., respectively. Thereafter the market was generally steady, with transactions upon only a moderate scale, though the day before yesterday there was a temporary return of activity and firmness to the market, without, however, leading to any further alteration in rates.

SEEDS became firmer at the beginning of this week, and an advance of ¼ to ½ anna per cwt. took place in prices of Linseed and Rapeseed; but the volume of business did not increase, and since then the feeling has remained steady with not much doing in any description. We quote this evening:—

Linseed	Rs. 6-6-0 to Rs. 6-9-0 per cwt
Rapeseed, Guzarat Yellow	" 7-13-0 to " 7-15-0 "

THE ARREST OF ABDUL RASOUL.

LONDON, APRIL 17.

In the Commons last night Mr. Conybeare moved the adjournment of the House for the purpose of protesting against the treatment of Abdul Rasoul.

Sir John Gorst, Under-Secretary for India, replying to Mr. Conybeare, said that the necessary information was wanting to enable the Government to judge whether the Indian Government had acted wisely in arresting Rasoul. He narrated the circumstances under which Rasoul had come to London and said that Lord Cross, Secretary of State for India, had refused to grant Rasoul compensation owing to the absence of any proof that his arrest was unjust. The motion for the adjournment was negatived without a division.

THE CHARGES AGAINST MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Matthews, Secretary of State for the Home Department, announced in the House of Commons yesterday that Captain Verney, for whose arrest a warrant had been issued, had sent a cable to the Speaker informing him that he would arrive in London from the Continent to-morrow.

It has been ascertained that Mr DeCobain, against whom a summons was also issued, is now beyond British jurisdiction.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE BENARES DISTURBANCE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

CALCUTTA, APRIL 17.

Great excitement prevails in Benares owing to the riot in the city over the Ramjee Temple case. It was supposed that the matter would have been discussed at the Municipal meeting yesterday morning, and a large crowd assembled at the Town Hall to hear the result. Finding that the temple case was not for consideration the crowd dispersed, but proceeded to the site of the temple, as a rumour had got abroad that it had been demolished. The temple was found intact, but by this time the mob had become riotous, and dug up the water-works pipes from the temple site to the distributing station, and also destroyed a small pumping engine on the river bank. Raja Shiva Prasad and Babu Sitaram, the Municipal Commissioners who had refused to listen to the protest of the people, had their houses attacked as well as the city telegraph office, the wires being cut at the Rajghat Station. The mob wrecked the place, plundering the cash chest of about Rs. 3,000. Immediately on receiving the news, the Magistrate and the District Superintendent of Police and the Commissioner proceeded to the scene of the disturbance with a strong force of East Lancashire and 12th Native Infantry Regiment. Two companies of the former were also despatched by a special train to guard the Dufferin Bridge, and other parties were sent to guard the Bank of Bengal, the Post Office, and the Cantonment Railway Stations. The troops remained in the city all night and every precaution has been taken by the civil and military authorities. Everything passed off quietly last night, most of the troops being withdrawn from the city about 11 o'clock. The Volunteers who turned out promptly were also dismissed to their homes. The Magistrate remained at the Town Hall all night in case of further trouble. All is quiet to-day. About 120 rioters were arrested last evening and more arrests are being made to-day.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

ALLAHABAD, APRIL 17.

The riot at Benares has been a more serious affair than was at first thought. Religious prejudices may have started the riot, but a much more probable cause was the dearness of provisions, as the Julaybas who are Mahomedan weavers and are a large body, took a prominent part in the riot. They presented two or three petitions to the Collector complaining of the unduly high prices charged by Bunnias, and asking him to obtain lower rates, which he informed them he was powerless to do. It was generally known by the natives in Allahabad and elsewhere that there was to be a disturbance in Benares, so it may be said the riot was pre-meditated and the religious feeling respecting the temple gave the opportunity desired. The Government Telegraph Office was completely gutted, everything inside the place, including the furniture, were smashed to pieces. The Telegraph Master lost everything he had, and he and his family were glad to escape with their lives into adjoining premises. The iron cash chest was splashed open, and its contents, which is said to have been considerable, were appropriated by the rioters. The Rajghat Station was wrecked completely, everything being smashed to pieces and the Station Staff had a narrow escape of their lives, and besides the three thousand rupees plundered from the cash chest, two parcels of silver bullion worth over three thousand rupees was taken. Raja Siva Prasad was prepared for the rioters and Rai Seetaram who had not done so had his place invaded. Several valuable conveyances and much property were destroyed. The mob were pillaging his house, and there was every likelihood of its being wrecked, but the native sub-inspector of police ordered his men to fire. One of the villagers was wounded, and the remainder dispersed. The Volunteers were called out and the ladies and children were placed under their protection at the Osmond Hotel. One hundred and seventeen of the rioters have been arrested, and everything is now quieting down.

THE MANIPUR OUTBREAK.

ANOTHER SURVIVOR'S NARRATIVE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

KOHIMA, APRIL 17.

Mr. Williams of the Telegraph Department has related his experience to a correspondent. He says:—On the 23rd Mr. Quinton and party with an escort left for Manipur and held a Darbar on the arrival of the Maha raja and his youngest brother attended, but the Jubaraj and Senapati did not. The Chief Commissioner then ordered the Jubaraj's palace to be attacked at 4a.m. The Manipuris replied from their forts, and fighting continued all day till 5 p.m., when both sides ceased firing. The Chief Commissioner went with four officers—Colonel Skene, Mr. Grimwood the Political Agent, and Lieutenant Simpson, and Mr. Cossins—under a flag of truce. They were met by the Jubaraj in the compound. The Jubaraj asked the Chief Commissioner why he did such a thing without any cause of offence. The Chief Commissioner apologized, but the Manipur officers being enraged urged for the British officers to be punished. The Jubaraj gave orders to arrest them. The men arrested them, and cut off their heads. The Jubaraj was very sorry for it, as he told me after he had me released from prison. He was very kind to me after that, and told me to speak the facts as he related the above to me personally. Messrs. Melville and O'Brien, of the Telegraph Department were at Myongkong, 36 miles from Manipur, where they were attacked by the Manipuris, and being overpowered they were also beheaded. I saw their corpses on the road and picked up some private letters from the bungalow, which they occupied when attacked and burnt down. The Manipuris are making preparation to oppose the British and are blocking the roads and building the wooden forts and placing guns at stages. I saw four guns at Thobal, where they sent me as interpreter to the British Camp. There the Senapati was in command, and he was also very kind to me, but became very angry when the officer believed to be Colonel Howlett would not retire after three days' delay. Both the Senapati and Jubaraj say they will fight, and die like men; and the British Government will never get them alive as prisoners, but can take their corpses as prisoners. Lieutenant Brackenbury, who was shot in the legs, was unable to get up when the Residency was shelled and set fire to, so he was burnt to death inside.

ATTACK ON THE MANIPURIS.

ALLAHABAD, APRIL 17.

Advices from Tammu state that Captain Presgrave and Lieutenant Grant have had another brush with the Manipuris. They sallied out with two hundred men towards Aimol, where a strong party of Manipuris had been seen. On our troops approaching Aimol the enemy fled, leaving four killed and two prisoners. On returning to Palel three hundred of the enemy were seen making for Manipur. The Mounted Infantry under Lieutenant Grant pursued and killed fifty, among whom is reported to be Thulja Minza. The Infantry followed at the double, but could not overtake the enemy. Our casualties were nil. Lieutenant Grant's charger was shot under him. The Manipuris, it appears, have been sent out to induce the Chins to block the road, but the prompt action of Captain Presgrave took them by surprise and prevented them from holding the road between Tammu and Palel. Ah Nub, a Manipuri Chin tribe, have sent in the head-men from ten villages, and they state that they desire friendship with the British Government and are willing to supply Chin coolies. The Manipuris are endeavouring to tamper with the Chins, but we are informed that the Zati tribe will remain neutral.

THE TAMMU COLUMN.

At present the Tammu Column is being much delayed owing to the difficulty of navigation in the Chindwin, which is now at its lowest. This Column will be about four thousand strong with ten mountain guns. The steamer Brigand with a detachment of the King's Royal Rifles and some transport animals while proceeding up the Chindwin river foundered near Alon; another steamer has been aground for three days; and a third with forty men of the King's Royal Rifles cannot get up for want of water. Some of these are Mounted Infantry, and will be a loss to the Tammu Column.

SIMLA, APRIL 17.

Captain Presgrave and Lieutenant Grant while returning to Tammu from Thobal encountered a party of Manipuris and killed 50 and wounded many. The enemy ran away and were pursued by our forces at the double. No casualties on our side. Lieutenant Grant's pony was shot under him. The enemy numbered about 300, and were endeavouring to induce the tribes near Palel to intercept the return of their party.

THE GOVERNOR ON TOUR.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

BELGAUM, APRIL 17.

His Excellency the Governor arrived here on tour this afternoon, and was received at the station by Mr. Pollens, Judge, to whose bungalow his Excellency drove. After tea his Excellency drove to the high school for the presentation of an address and prize distribution. The Governor, replying to the address said he was sorry that he had one unpleasant matter to refer to; that shortly after taking over the office it had been his duty to impose a somewhat heavy penalty on Belgaum. It is wise to leading men of such a town as Belgaum that the whole of India looked for example of local self-government. It was only by maintaining a spirit of co-operation and good-feeling that such demonstrations as could lead to riots could be excluded. Regarding the water-supply, he said, he was glad to see the Municipality endeavouring to improve it. A compliment was due, he said, to the Southern division on the attention paid to primary education. Referring to the leper accommodation, while congratulating them, he said, he would suggest the consideration whether if the District Municipalities Act were amended it might not be provided that each district should pay for maintenance of its own lepers. His Excellency concluding thanked them for the welcome. The Prize-distribution to the pupils of the high school then followed.

THE STRANDING OF THE "PALITANA."

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, APRIL 16.

The inquiry into the recent grounding of the Palitana off Eastern Grove Light was opened and concluded to-day. The Court unanimously found no blame attaching to Captain Dougherty or his officers. Every reasonable and necessary precaution had been taken in the navigation of the vessel. The calculations were carefully worked out, and the accidents appeared to be due to the abnormal set of the tide, and the fact that the weather was hazy. Under the circumstances the Court says it was impossible to avoid the grounding.

THE ROSS DIVORCE CASE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MADRAS, APRIL 17.

Judgment in the Ross divorce case was delivered to-day. His Lordship found Mr. Ross had not been guilty of cruelty to Mrs. Ross, and on the whole the petitioner Mrs. Ross had failed to prove her case. The petition was dismissed; and the respondent was decreed to pay the costs in the suit by Mr. Ross against his wife for adultery. His Lordship found that though the case was one of a grave suspicion, he was not satisfied with the evidence adduced, and the co-respondent was not allowed costs, but was directed to pay those of the petitioner.

VANITY FAIR.

(FROM OUR LADY CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, MARCH 26.

DULL is the verdict on the week—decorously dull as becomes the close of Lent—depressingly dull, except for the everlasting variety of horrid weather, the thunder and storm, fog and hail showers with which, unlamblike, March is going out. On Saturday, in the pauses between the snow showers, there was a minute or so of wild excitement, when Oxford and Cambridge courageously faced the elements. It was the 48th annual contest; and victory was declared in favour of the dark blues, in spite of the apparent popularity of the fashionable turquoise tint this year. The boat race over, dulness resumed its sway, unrelieved except by canvassing for poor law guardians, discoursing sacred music, discussing the merits of the forthcoming Academy pictures, and the admirable meekness with which the President and his colleagues took their rebuke from the House of Lords in the matter of receiving pictures on Good Friday. With such unexhilarating topics and the questionable enlivenment of packing up for the holidays, we decorously dragged through Holy Week. Everybody consequently is longing to get away, her Majesty the Queen setting the example of flitting in search of sunshine and spring. Parliament sits no longer, but stalks the country airing its views for the enlightenment of its constituents. For the first time in the history of the Women's Rights Movement, luck is said to be on ladies' side, Mr. Haldane having, this week, secured in the ballot the first place for his motion to remove the disabilities of women. It remains to be seen whether fortune favours the Bill. The day in itself is unfortunate in the eyes of those who are superstitious. Few people, even in this practical age, care to undertake a business or to begin a journey on a Friday. In Paris, so general is the feeling against defying Fate, that even the receipts of the busses on Fridays are much lower than on the other week-days. Among those who shared the superstition was the lately departed M. Theodore de Banville, author of Odes Funambulesques, and of the comedy Gringoire, of which an adaptation, under the title of the Balladmonger, was lately played at the Haymarket. M. de Banville had the strange dread of No. 13 as well as of Friday; and it was a pathetic coincidence that though all his life he avoided travelling on Friday, he should be fated to begin his last journey from this Old World of ours to the unknown New World beyond the grave, on Friday, the 13th March.

***

Monte Carlo players have, according to the Pall Mall, a still ghastlier superstition. It is the belief in luck being turned by death. One specific for breaking the bank is to back the number of a bedroom where some one has died—and in the sunny south, to which stricken people throng in search of health, such a bedroom is not hard to find. Superstition is also rampant among other players than those at Monte Carlo. Mdme. Minnie Hauk has a talisman to ensure her success which very few would envy her. It is a piece of rope cut from the noose that hanged a New York murderer five years ago. Miss Kate Rorke's charm is more poetic and less gruesome. It is a golden butterfly, adapted as a brooch, which she wears, no matter what her costume may be. One night she left it at home, and lo! the result was failure.

***

But the French nature is always the most impressionable. This week a romantic story is re-told à propos of the death of M. de Brecourt, once well known in Parisian society, but for many years night porter in the monastery of the Grande Chartreuse. M. de Brecourt was married three times, and by his third wife he had an only daughter. One day, on coming home from shooting, he discharged his gun in a thicket, behind which unfortunately his daughter was standing, and killed her instantaneously. In despair and misery, M. de Brecourt entered the monastery in the humblest capacity, and disguising his identity under the name of Brother Anselm, he was for evermore as dead to the world as if he had been already in his grave. And yet people declare there is nothing in a name!

***

"What's in a name" has been the cry for a long time, but it has not established the fact that a name is valueless. A name carries great weight—it may make or mar a life-time. A pretty girl's romance has been nipped in the bud by her introduction to an admirer as Miss Sophonisba Snooks, and many a man has lost a charming wife through his inability to endow her with a euphonious substitute for her maiden name. But, on the other hand, a fine name is not always a passport to greatness. Occasionally the Bankruptcy Courts, and even the Police Courts, reverberate to the sound of splendid titles which have not attained the honour which is generally supposed to be their due, nor impressed either tradesman or policeman with a sense of security. There are alas! in this sordid world bakers and butchers, so grovelling in spirit as to prefer hard cash to glory in requital of their services: and there are policemen so stupid as to dispute the right of a man with many names to walk away with his neighbour's purse.

***

However this occasional depreciation of the market price of names does not alter their standard value. Democratic as we are becoming every day, we still worship names and titles, and associate them with worth of every description. It is easier for Count Cosmo de Faraway to obtain an invitation to our receptions, or to secure credit at the greengrocer's, than for poor homely Mr. Katkin, though the one only drops his h.s., while the other plays fast and loose with all the letters of the alphabet. And yet people ask: what's in a name, and talk of the sweetness of unbaptised roses. The rose by any other name does smell as sweet—if you can get any one to smell it. But there's the rub. Who will care to sniff up the fragrance of a pot-pourri labelled pickled cabbage, and who venture to flavour his cold meat with a condiment described as crumpled rose leaves; though the cabbage grew on a thorny stem, and the rose leaves were gathered from sturdy stalks in the kitchen garden? No one. And who cares to read the effusions of a poet who introduces himself to the public as Jacob Scrubbs? Scrubbs suggests, not verse making, but exercise on the washing board, or the office stairs. It would hardly be satisfactory even to designate a laundress, as it would imply a severity of handling that would be fatal to our old lace and fine linens. So, in spite of Shakspeare, one is led to the conclusion that there is something in a name—something depressing in a prosaic name, something attractive in a poetic name, something repellent in a vulgar name, something encouraging in an ambitious name, something exalting in a heroic name, and something confidence-inspiring in a solid name. Few people find a fine name as fatal, as in the case of the unhappy pig described by Moore in his letters of the Fudge family—"Juliana, the crather, the name was the death of her." On the contrary, a string of fourteen or twenty high sounding names seems to have an invigorating rather than weakening effect on the scions of noble houses, if one may judge of it by the remarkable way in which they increase and multiply. An American Novelist, Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth, is another example of the wholesome effect of having a striking name. "My name," she says, "is Emma Dorothy Eliza Nevette Southworth. When I was born, seventy-five years ago, my parents were too poor to give me anything else, so they gave me all those names." And Mrs. Southworth, who still writes, has done them credit.

***

Next best to having a good name is to have a good pseudonym. The sweetness of the tuberose, the guelder rose, and the Christmas rose, is accepted on the merits of the name they assume. The pseudonym library is a new edition of short stories, brought out by Messrs. Fisher Unwin, of which four are already published. The first volume Mdlle. Ive is the specially appropriate tale of a pseudonym, told by Lane Falconer. It is cleverly written, and though rather sad, not altogether unsatisfactory in its ending. The quaint style of the little volumes of the pseudonym library is a pleasant variety. They are long and narrow, with foreign looking yellow paper covers, uneven, uncut edges, large type, delightfully broad margins, and, oh rapture! They are, from cover to cover, innocent of advertisement—innocent as the month old baby, if the simile is not considered unfortunate—some people think the infant mind has a special talent for advertising. The little pseudonyms are, however, not allowed to spoil their appearance with horrid soaps, pills, or dentifrices, and though possibly we pay a trifle more for this advantage the pretty little volumes are good value for eighteen pence.

***

Golden Gates, the new penny magazine, edited by John Strange Winter, has made its debut successfully this week. It contains two complete short stories, an every-day essay, a poem, the editor's thoughts, and answers to correspondents, all smartly written and well printed. The magazine proposes to be complete in each number, bright, wholesome, and interesting; but its claim to wholesomeness would have been more deserved this week if the editor had given at least one cheerfully ended tale. Both are most gruesome and surely one has appeared somewhere else already. His Chum's Chum, by J. Strange Winter, came out not long ago in a fancy little volume, "Golden Grains," published in aid of a charity. Another of the stories in the same volume by a different author appeared lately in Woman. Of course the charity was not given the copyright—and the editor is quite at liberty to use her story again. But is it wise to do so in the first number? Does it not suggest to any one who does not know the circumstances that the contributions are not necessarily first-hand but reheated. To pirate even one's own property may be a dangerous experiment. Mrs. Stannard is specially fresh and interesting in her answers to correspondents from whom she wisely requires a coupon enclosed with each question, or her stock of patience would soon be exhausted. In answer to a creature who calls herself "Housefly," the editor says, with a delightfully practical spirit; "What will it matter a hundred years hence to any of you whether you had a fire after the spring cleaning or not? But it may make all the difference to you all if you have practically killed a delicate man by keeping him without a fire during a cold May. And for what. For the sake of a few yards of washed muslin, and to save a servant from doing ten minutes more work in the morning." Do not the hearts of all of us lazy comfort-loving men and women warm to the author of such sound and wholesome advice?

***

To protest is the newest form of advertisement—both men and women employ it, therefore there can be no unkind remarks about ladies who protest too much. The members of the Rational Dress Reform movement are "on the protest" against trailing dresses, and the protest will take the form of a fancy fair to be held at Kensington Town Hall on the 14th and 15th of April, where all the stall-holders and assistants will appear in rational walking dresses, made under the auspices of the Rational Dress Association, or in the Muddy Weather costume, designed by Mrs. Charles Hancock. This admirable method of showing the error of her ways to the misguided follower of fashion, who helps the vestry in its street-sweeping operations by trailing material at five and six pence or so per yard along the streets, is the idea of Viscountess Harberton, the President of the Rational Dress Society, who is designing a new invention for the occasion. Margaret Lady Sandhurst, who is prominent in all the forward movements of women, will open the proceedings, and stalls will be taken by Lady Coffin, Mrs. Oscar Wilde, Mrs. Stopes, and others. One of the most rational reforms in bazaar-holding will be carried out:—(Let us hope not to the disadvantage of the undertaking) no one will be pressed to buy, but no doubt every one will gladly help the deserving Institution to which the proceeds will be devoted: the Metropolitan Association for Befriending Young Servants.

***

In order to encourage home industries, the Princess Christian has ordered several pieces of silk in specially designed patterns to be made for her daughter's trousseau by the weavers in Spitalfields. They are in exquisitely delicate tints, some interwoven with gold and silver thread to suit the prevailing taste for brilliant effects. Gold passe menterie with colored stones is the favourite trimming for bonnets—a spray of spring flowers, or orchids lightly fastened in at the back giving the key note of colour to the costume.

***

Novelties in note paper are always appearing—the latest, having long slender envelopes to match, is striped pink and white, or blue and white, and looks too pretty for use. Pompadour, a flowery chintz pattern paper, is also fanciful and gay, while the Louis Quinze, with an ornamental golden scroll border above, after the style of furniture of that period, is suited to majestic occasions—marriages, or banquets of Lord Mayors or presidents. A mauve mourning paper, with a black border, is designed for those in mitigated grief—if there were a language of letter paper, it would suggest that the writer, if a widow or widower, was again open to receive or make offers.

The Lady Guide Association has made a fresh start in the Strand, and is working in co-operation with the Gentlewomen's Cigarette Employment Society—both institutions helping to supply remunerative employment to ladies of limited means—an endeavour which deserves heartier support than has fallen to its lot as yet.

THE LANDING OF A NEW TELEGRAPH CABLE.

YESTERDAY morning, at seven o'clock, the shore end of the third telegraph cable to Aden was laid in Back Bay, opposite the Marine Lines. The work is being carried out by the Telegraphic Construction and Maintenance Company, and the new line which is of an improved type will considerably facilitate the dispatch of messages. There will now be three cables at Suez, and the fourth Red Sea line will be used for South Africa and local traffic. The new cable is close upon 1,800 miles long, and at the shore end is unusually heavy, weighing sixteen tons to the mile. The deep sea line is thirty-seven hundredweight to the mile. The main portion was laid and completed on Wednesday by the Scotia, and was reeled out at a speed of over seven knots an hour. The barge bearing five miles of the heavy type of cable came yesterday morning within a few hundred feet of the shore, and by the aid of an army of coolies the cable was floated ashore and connected with the new under-ground lines to the telegraph office. The barge was then towed out to beyond Malabar Point, spinning out the line, where it was taken aboard the Calabria, the vessel that will complete the laying and effected an union by Sunday night with the portion already laid. The gentlemen who have been responsible for the work are, for the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Company, Mr. Lucas, Engineer, and Mr. Brown, Electrician; the Consulting Engineer and Electrician for the Eastern Telegraph Company is Mr. H. C. Forde, C.E., who superintended the laying of the two cables already in existence.

DEFICIENT WATER-SUPPLY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—As usual in the hot-weather the cry for deficient water-supply has set in from various quarters in the Fort. Now that the Vehar and Tulsi Lakes have been relieved of their pressure by the Naval Reservoir, no complaint should exist on the above score. Our Tanea Dam, the great monument of the enterprising spirit of the Bombay Municipality, having reached completion, and with it the expected water famine no longer threatening, the Commissioner should see that the tax-payers are supplied with a greater quantity of water than last year. An abundant supply of pure water in these sultry days is necessary.—Yours, &c.,

BOMBAY VOLUNTEER ARTILLERY.

THE members of the No. 2 Battery of the Bombay Volunteer Artillary met at their head-quarters, Byculla, last night for the purpose of electing a Lieutenant and a 2nd-Lieutenant for their battery. During the week the names of Gunners H. W. Barrow and L. G. Robertson were submitted to the committee, and were put up for voting. The result was as follows:—Gunner H. W. Barrow as 1st Lieutenant, Gunner J. L. Robertson as 2nd Lieutenant.

At a recent meeting of the Royal Botanic Society the secretary brought to the notice of members a portion of a large poplar lately blown down in the gardens, showing a network of roots running almost round the trunk, between the bark and wood, at some distance from the ground. The plant had apparently derived its nourishment, not from the soil, but from the decaying portions of itself.

PATTAN SOMNATH.

RUINS, picturesque witnesses to the stories of the long-buried past, have always, it seems, a peculiar attractiveness. We like to stand on the very spot of some ancient deed of gallantry; or where crumbling walls or giant slabs speak more eloquently than books of departed splendour, and the fallen pride of man. It is pleasant enough to read of the Egyptian magnificence, the refined luxury of later Rome, the mysteries of old Peru, and of the Druids: but who would not rather stand and meditate an hour, "within the Colisseum's wall"; amongst the hidden ashes of Pompeii, or re-people the silent star-watched waste of Thebes and Cheop's tomb? With what curious emotions an imaginative mind is filled amidst the grim sandstones of Stonehenge! The sacrificial stone especially; what pictures it excites! And if we had the good fortune to spend a silent space in some old Peruvian city would not the spirits of the Divine Incas seem to be hovering about each broken pillar and speaking to us, out of the gloom and weedy ruins, of their lost greatness? It is not enough that you have already learnt all that books can teach you, of the romantic stories of the old world. When you are in presence of the silent witnesses, you feel that they impart new and unsuspected lights; that beside their dumb but forcible testimony, the printed page is almost impertinent. The spirit of the Past stirs the dead silence and touches your imagination as with an electric spark. The disjoined fragments unite: the waste places are once more peopled with men and palaces, the splendid pageant moves before the mind. The sun had just set; his last rays were lingering over the sea and colouring the white foam of the breakers. The dark mouldering ruins of one of the world's most famous temples were bathed in a mellow evening glow. I speak of Pattan Somnath. The tale of Somnath is too familiar to need repetition. Even those who have never opened a history book may have heard at least of this celebrated shrine in Wilkie Collin's Moonstone. But though the temple and its story are so widely known, it is comparatively seldom visited. I have seen it before more than once. As often as I am in its neighbourhood I pay a devout visit and refresh my fancy with its whispered suggestions. And so it happened that the other evening I stood once more under the old black dome. It was very still; the light could scarcely penetrate the gathering gloom within the walls; though in the west corner and just beyond where the great idol had stood some eight hundred years ago, the rays of the setting sun forced a passage through the crevices of a bricked up window. The bricking was of the coarsest; sadly out of keeping with the older work; and the sunlight emphasized its modern squalor. A poor patched, world's wonder now a days. But I am forgetting that Pattan Somnath is not as familiar to my readers as to me. About three miles from Verawal, a railway station, and the principal port of the Junagadh State, lies the town of Pattan. There is a good road, and it is pleasant to drive over in the evening, and watch the sun set across the bay. If you stand on the old wall of the Somnath Temple, you see the town of Verawal to the west; a deeply indented coast line, and a triple row of snowy breakers. The sea breaks up against the temple wall. Verawal represents the present and

RELICS IN BOMBAY.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."]

...of the Asiatic Society complained ...ay in a grimly playful manner, that ...people appeared to have organised a conspiracy against that body, to make the fact of its possessing literary and archæological treasures of untold worth beam on the dim recesses of its collective mind. Last month, he said, the talk was all about the Dante and Carlyle Manuscripts, and this week everyone was making a powerful merit in himself to beset him—poor fellow—with questions about the "Assyrian Relics." The worst of it all, however, was that even some members of the Society had allowed this prospect of corporate riches to obscure their moral sense so far as to solicitate themselves on the possession of "stolen goods." Acquainted with this facetious gentleman's peculiarities I replied with good humour that though he was wrong to get put out by such little worries and work himself up into such gloomy beliefs, he might make himself easy on the last score, for in all probability the Society's relics were not the stolen remnants of Layard's cases. I pointed out to him that the paper he referred to was not the work of an Assyriologist writing out of the fulness of his knowledge, but the attempt of a student, previously unacquainted with the subject, picking his way in a groping and purblind manner through a number of facts accidentally brought to his notice. This startled my clever friend not a little. As he appeared to me to have, in common with others, ignored the existence of another side to the case, I have thought it expedient to request you to give my argument a place in your journal, before the interest attaching to the subject takes the customary fit of cold.

Well, then, the facts, brought into a focus for plain statement are simply these. In 1848, Austen Henry Layard sent down the Assyrian sculptures he had unearthed at Nimrood from Busreh to Bombay on their way to London. The cases "containing the smaller objects" were opened here without authority, and exhibited to the public "by direction of the Asiatic Society." They were carelessly repacked and the "most valuable" of the relics were missing when Layard took an inventory of them in London. There are at present about a dozen blocks of stone and marble in the Asiatic Society's possession, and three of these are supposed to be identical with the originals of three plates in Layard's First Series of "Monuments." This is the case for the discovery announced in a gush of exultation last Monday. Let us dissect it a little by handling the attempt at identification. It is said that the figure to the extreme right in plate 5 corresponds with a slab in the Society's possession, and is therefore its copy. The fact of Layard's having given of some of the colossal pieces is adduced to support the conclusion that this piece was one of those so curiously "left behind." I have read Bonomi's and Layard's books a little too carefully to deny the fact itself, but I think it necessary to add that the quotation from Bonomi is peculiarly unhappy, and has been pressed into his service by the writer without having understood its signification. Bonomi does not assert, in this part of his communication to the Athenæum that the blocks were sawn into a number of pieces breadthwise, but that "the slabs usually about a foot in thickness were sawn as thin as could be done with safety to save freight." That is to say, they were cut along the depth, and Layard's own assertion that they were "cut from the back" makes for the same interpretation. (Nineveh and its Remains 1849 vol. i., p. 140.) But to come to the figure itself. It is winged and bears a pine cone in the right hand and a basket in the left. The whole theory of the Society's block being a lost remnant of the original of plate 5 is at once sent to the rightabout by the following words of Layard himself: the letterpress descriptive of the plates he says of p. 5:—"This fine specimen of Assyrian sculpture formed the end of a hall in the north-west palace of Nimroud. It was then discovered in the most perfect preservation. The three slabs are about 7 feet 8 inches high and 6 feet 7 inches broad. They have been secured for the British Museum. If the words I have italicised do not bring the theory to a dead stop, the fact of the Society's block being nearer four feet than seven in height will do my business. Again, another piece representing "a winged figure kneeling before a sacred tree" is maintained to be exactly the left half of the plate 7A. Though materially correct, this statement does not come up to the mark of precision necessary for demonstrating absolute identity. It will be necessary to describe the peculiar design of this symbol of the God Asshur before explaining my meaning. "The Centre Stem," says Bonomi, "occupies the corner of the room, its branches extending equally on both sides of the angle. The Stem is interrupted at intervals by transverse scroll like ornaments, and has likewise spikes or points, all the way up to the top, which fans out something like a palm-tree, every interweavement of the branches terminating in the Greek honeysuckle. (Nineveh and its Palaces, p. 182.) Now I have found on a minute comparison of Layard's plate, with the Society's block, that while the latter has four such honeysuckles (or blossoms) in a right line the former has only three. And now to tackle the third and last of these identifications. That hawk-headed or eagle-headed figure on plate 36, which, Rawlinson disagreeing with Layard, will not have to be Nisroch, is supposed to be a copy of another of the Society's blocks. This again is not exact enough. The Society's block when carefully examined is found to be only the right half of a larger one, and not an entire piece, for it represent Nisroch (?) worshipping the moiety of a symbolic tree, while in Layard's plate Nisroch stands by himself, unaccompanied by such divine emblem. In reality the Bombay block appears to be the half of a slab similar to (but not identical with) the one engraved on p. 302 of Bonomi's "Nineveh and its Palaces." Put in a word, all this means that the identifications are pitifully inconclusive. Even supposing them to be not disfigured by the flaws I have drawn attention to, they can be of no demonstrative value in the absence of exact measurements of the originals of Layard's plates. In Assyrian Art, certain things and persons were given a stereotyped decorative treatment. The three figures I have discussed are some of the commonest on Assyrian sculptures, and may be found in all collections of any pretension. For instance, the winged figure from Nimrood in Layard's fifth plate occurs again in plates 25, 36, and 39B Botta again found it at Khossabad, and it is depicted in plates 26 and 27 of his first volume. Nisroch again takes up two plates in Botta (Nos. 74 and 75) and in the "Hall of Nisroch, all the slabs upon the walls, excepting one, consist of figures of Nisroch presenting the fir-cone and basket to the symbolic tree." It is clear then that identification, under such circumstances, should be based on other things than a mere resemblance in design. The field of Assyrian explorations was then quite a virgin one, and if circumstances were favorable, influential Britons were able to send off to any part of the world shiploads of these relics.

I have not the slightest desire to lose myself in the search of new identification before the ink of my objections to the old ones is dry, but I may just as well add that there are three other blocks corresponding in many material points with some plates in Layard. For example, the human head of a winged bull in black stone resembles No 8 of plate 95. Two figures with right hands elevated, and left hands holding three flowed and five flowered branches may be ticketed off as belonging to the same family as the originals of the fifth plate of Layard's second series, and the thirty-seventh of the first respectively. Before pulling up I should just like to state precisely beyond a chance of misunderstanding the ground I have taken. I only say that the case for these blocks being any parts of Layard's boxes has not been made out by the writer of the paper. I shall readily come round to a different conclusion if other more cogent proofs are produced. If I am told that the writer himself does not insist on their identity, and has provided the Rawlinson-Clerk theory, I reply that it does not require any extra amount of penetration to see that the latter is only a loophole or a movable screen somewhat like the one used by the Ancient Assyrians to cover a retreat from a cherished position. All his efforts evidently flow into one current of proving the identity, and he appears to have unexpectedly run his head on the "Bombay Times" entry in his search for facts supporting his claim to this so-called discovery.—Yours, &c.,

MUNICIPAL FINANCE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—May I appeal to your sense of justice and fair play to allow me to explain myself in reference to that part of your criticism on Municipal finance appearing in to-day's issue of your journal, which relates to the figures of the growth of revenue and expenditure which I submitted to the Corporation in support of my motion for retrenchment of expenditure. You observe that the Commissioner having pointed out some discrepancies showed that the increment of income was in excess of the increment of expenditure." I am afraid, there is here a misapprehension on your part of the Municipal Commissioner's statement when dealing with my figures in his speech on Monday last. His criticism was directed to the two parts into which my comparative statement of revenue and expenditure was divided. The first part related to the growth of income and outgoing as a whole while the second referred to the outgoings under three specific heads, namely, public health, public works and Municipal debt. I summarised the letter in two ways for the purpose of a fair comparison. I compared the figures of 1885-86 under their respective heads with the estimates of 1891-92, and showed that the percentages of growth in the latter year over the former were as under :—

Public Health	42 per cent.
Public Works	79 "
Municipal Debt	130 "

The other comparison instituted was on the basis of the quenquennial average. I compared the average expenditure incurred during the five years which ended on 31st March, 1890, with the estimates for the current financial year, and gave out the following percentages :—

Public Health	31 per cent.
Public Works	44 "
Municipal Debt	30 "

The Commissioner acknowledged the correctness of the two sets of figures, but qualified the statement by remarking that the re septs under the head of Public Health and Public Works justified that expenditure. He took up the revenue from the halalcore and water taxes for 1885-86 and 1891-92, and observed that there was a growth of 73 and 83 per cent. respectively. This was all that the Commissioner meant by the increment of income over expenditure. I did not mean, as you seem to have erroneously stated in your leader, that the general increment of income was in excess of the increment of expenditure. The Commissioner knew too well the danger of making such a statement which, even after expunging items from the general revenues to which he took exception, would not bear the light of examination. This is the misconception which has given genesis to the statements you have made in criticising this part of Municipal finance.—Yours, &c.,

NEWS OF THE DAY.

LIEUTENANT LIONEL HERBERT, Central India Horse, has been appointed an Aide-de-Camp to the Viceroy, in place of Captain Streatfield, who has gone home. Mr. Herbert was for some time an Aide-de-Camp to the Duke of Connaught.

SPECULATION is still rife in legal circles in Madras as to who is to act as Advocate General for the Hon'ble Mr. Spring Branson when he proceeds on leave on the 27th instant. Mr. R. B. Michell is thought to stand the best chance.

IT is generally expected in Simla that the Manipur operations will occupy the troops for about two months.

ON the 20th ultimo his Imperial Highness the Cesarewitch arrived at Bangkok on his journey north to China. His reception, as described in the glowing periods of a local scribe, was in the last degree imposing. The Prince landed in the royal barge—a boat some 150 feet in length, glittering with gold ornaments from stem to stern, and propelled by more than a hundred rowers whose gilded paddles glistened and flashed in the sunlight. When the boat touched the landing-stage, his Majesty stretched out his hand to help his guest on shore, and the illustrious couple, followed by a large retinue of Siamese Princes, walked together to the reception pavilion under the ample shade of the royal gilt umbrella. The King placed the magnificent Sanarom Palace at the disposal of his guest, whom he seems to have entertained throughout in a right royal manner. The reception in Siam will in fact tend to accentuate the ungracious attitude of the Chinese Sovereign.

NOT often has the boat-race been made a subject of marine insurance; indeed there is only one authenticated record of the fact. It happened in this wise. When Mr. William Yardley, the well-known cricketer, was at Cambridge, the Light Blues in a certain year appeared to have a "moral" certainty of success, and accordingly the man of the bat betted freely on his colleagues of the oar. "But," said a friend, "supposing that Cambridge sinks, what then?" Mr. Yardley considerd the situation, and promptly betook himself to Lloyd's. "On what terms," he asked, "will you underwrite the Cambridge boat to reach Mortlake without foundering?" "One per cent." was the reply of the astounded official, after consulation with those in command, and the vessel was insured in less than ten minutes. The Cambridge boat won easily, but Mr. Yardley did not regret his diplomatic "policy."

M. PIERRE DE LANO gives some of the most interesting reminiscences of Prince Napoleon which have yet been published. The familiar and almost fraternal relations between the Third Napoleon and his cousin are particularly referred to. It is related that on one occasion the Emperor asked the Prince what he ought to do with the Empress when she became petulant. The answer was a rough one, and the Emperor, shaking his head, said "No, that would not do! She would be capable of crying out from the windows of the Tuileries." As to the Princess Clotilde, it is stated that her husband was often annoyed by the negligence of her dress, but he said that she atoned for this by her care of her children. Interesting, too, are the Prince's opinions on Gambetta, Jules Ferry, and M. Paul de Cassagnac. Gambetta, he predicted, would be Premier, but he was too good a fellow and too sentimental for a politician. Ferry was different. He resembled a surgeon who could cut away the flesh of a patient undisturbed by the sufferer's cries and sufferings. M. Paul de Cassagnac was a capital Pontifical Zouave—that was all!

FEW English people know what wonderful feats of engineering have been accomplished in the Andes. It appears that the highest inhabited place in the world is Galera, a railway village in Peru, 15,635 ft. above the sea, or within 100 ft. of the summit of Mont Blanc. Near it a tunnel, 3,847 ft. long, is being bored through the peak of the mountain, 600 ft. above the perpetual snow-line. The railways of the Andes exhibit some of the most marvellous results of engineering skill which the world contains.

THE spire of St. Helen's Church, Ryde, Isle of Wight, which was built at the beginning of the last century, was shortly after completion struck by lightning, and it was believed that a large bell was broken at the same time. This week Churchwarden Calloway went into the belfry, and out of curiosity examined the bell. Instead of a crack he found that a piece of wood which had been broken from the wheel was pressing against the bell and stopping the vibration. On removing this the bell, after being muffled for 170 years, rang out in a way which astonished the inhabitants.

IT has been said quite truly during the last few days that the Monte Carlo bank invariably wins in the long run at the gambling tables. Yet systems for "breaking the bank" abound throughout the Riviera, their name is legion, and a gullible public continues to patronize and encourage the alleged "royal guides" to wealth. Britishers, however, are far outdone by the superstitious Southerners, who believe in their charms to a ludicrous degree. One man will carry persistently a piece of rope wherewith some unfortunate being has hanged himself, and will believe in this ghastly relic as a sovereign means of success. Another infallible charm is to notice the number of a bed room wherein some one has died, and to back the number of that room at the gambling-table. Should some consumptive visitor succumb, there is sure to be a rush for the lottery ticket bearing the number of the deceased's bedroom.

WRITING of the largely-signed petition, praying "That the study of medicine at German universities be thrown open to women, and that women duly qualified be allowed to practice the medical profession," which was contemptuously dismissed in the German Reichstag, the Berlin correspondent of the British Medical Journal says:—It might have been expected that the question—which is everywhere acknowledged to be a burning one—would have been seriously discussed. The arguments against the petition were of the familiar, well-worn description, more suitable to a provincial debating club than to the Parliament of the German Empire. "Women should keep house, and not meddle with science. Women who study are objectionable." This was the gist of the opponents' speeches; the discussion did not rise above this level, and the petition was quietly thrown out.

FURTHER trouble with the Lewis crofters awaits the Government. A Stornoway correspondent writing to a Home journal says: "For months past it has been in the knowledge of the authorities in Lewis that the people of Lochs, where the famous deer raid took place, and where the social condition of the people is deplorable, had resolved, and made preparation, for a simultaneous migration into the lands of Park, where are the ruins of over thirty townships that were cleared within the last seventy years. Authentic and reliable news has just come to Stornoway that the pre-arranged invasion has begun by the first colony of landless cottars starting at midnight last night with bag and baggage. Their purpose is to rebuild their houses as far as possible on the ruins of those of their forefathers, and to hold and cultivate the land unless evicted at the point of the bayonet. As hunger stares them in the face the gaol, they say, has no terror for them. Between venison and fishing they expect to eke out an existence until the potato crops grow which they are to plant in the virgin soil if they get the necessary seed. It is expected that similar invasions of lands now waste, but once cultivated, will be made in various parts of the island. The people have nothing to fear from imprisonment, and considering that in many cases five families have to live on three acres of land while half the island is let to sporting tenants, are determined to pursue a policy of cultivating the waste lands in the island at whatever sacrifice. In one contingent that started yesterday morning there were eighteen heads of families, fully equipped for a long siege."

WHILE the world is wondering at Lieutenant Bachmontoff's projected journey, mainly on foot, from Vladivostock, on the Pacific, to Paris, it appears to be forgotten that the proposed feat has already been more than equalled by an English officer. We refer to Captain Dundas Cochrane, R. N., whose curious narrative of pedestrian travel was published in two volumes some sixty-six years ago. Cochrane's original idea was to demonstrate the possibility of walking round the world as nearly as the land surface of the globe would permit. He actually succeeded in journeying, alone and on foot, from Dieppe—his starting point—to the remotest north-eastern corner of the continent of Asia, the Bay of St. Peter and St. Paul. Finding it impossible to get a vessel to convey him thence to the north-west coast of America he addressed a letter from Okotsk, on the sea of that name, to the Governor of Siberia, stating the reasons which compelled him to abandon the further prosecution of his plans. He then set out again on foot, and, traversing Siberian Tartary once more, arrived safely in St. Petersburg just three years and three weeks after quitting that city, where he received a kindly welcome from the Emperor Alexander and the British Minister. On one occasion, between Tosna and Luibane, he was stripped of his valuables by robbers, and tied to a tree; but he was discovered and released by some soldiers who were repairing the road, and the Governor of Novgorod and a benevolent Russian merchant provided him with a complete refit. In Kamtschetka he walked four hundred miles without seeing a human being, and for one thousand miles of the worst part of his wanderings he met with only one habitation. Wherever people were to be found, however, he was treated with kindness, and the governors of towns and other Russian officials were, he testifies ever ready to help him forward. The details of the system, which enabled him to brave the hardships and perils of this stupendous pedestrian tour are to be found fully set forth in Captain Cochrane's book.

WHEN a child died under chloroform at Sheffield the other day, it was assumed, as usual, that the heart was weak; but at the inquest just held it has been established that the heart was healthy, and that the unsound organs were the lungs, which had been affected by pleurisy. This case, there, supports the conclusions of the Hyderabad Commission that the danger of death from chloroform is not from weakness of the heart, as is popularly supposed, but from failure of the respiration. If the lungs have a fair chance and the respiration is looked after the heart will take care of itself. In the Sheffield case one of the honorary surgeons of the infirmary said if he had known the deceased was suffering from pleurisy at the time of the operation he would not have advised the administration of chloroform; though if she had only suffered and recovered again from that disease he would have advised it. The regrettable misadventure will not be without one compensation if it lead the medical profession to study the Hydeabad Commission report and the precautions against accidents to the respiration therein recommended.

THE "Courrier de Londres," continuing its account of the great English schools, writes in appreciative terms of King's College, and especially commends one of its departments to the notice of the French—the workshops in which the students in engineering may learn the practice as well as the theory of their art. The students work in wood, in iron, and in steel; they make their own tools, and they learn how to use them. The workshops contain several forges, and the machinery is worked by steam-power. In another article of the series we have some account of Queen's College, in Harley-Street, and its growth from very small beginnings, as an institution founded for the education of young women destined for the scholastic profession, to a women's college open to all, and giving a liberal education; the course including Latin, the modern languages, physical science, music, the fine arts, and mathematics, and being conducted by professors of the highest repute.

ONE of the tanks in the fish house at the Zoo may seem to have been designed for the purpose of playing off a joke against the visitors. There are pictures outside illustrating various flat fish, which a most careful search will probably fail to identify within the tank; an unbroken surface of sand is generally all that is to be seen. The fish, however, are there, but well hidden under the sand. This is a tribute to the keen sight of other fish which prey upon them: for the upper surface of a sole or flounder can change its colour according to the varying tints of the sea bottom; on sand they become pale, on rock or dark gravel they become dark-coloured. It is clear then that this device, though perhaps good enough to deceive our dull senses, is easily seen through by creatures that have their eyesight sharpened by hunger. Besides, a good many of the enemies of the flat fish do not trust to their eyes at all, but scent their prey; hence it is difficult to see any useful purpose in the power of change of colour.

"MEN OF THE TIME" has now become "Men and Women of the Time," the growing number of celebrities of the gentle sex making their inclusion in any work professing to be a dictionary of contemporaries imperative. The book has necessarily been extended; there is, in fact, a double enlargement—the pages are bigger, as well as more numerous. Two thousand four hundred and fifty biographical notices are included within its covers. It would be easy to say, as is sometimes said in noticing such works, that the number is either too great or too small, but the persons of real or supposed consequence being sure to be mentioned, while others with less claim to be men or women of the time are boldly advertised; but criticism of this kind, not very gracious where there is so much to be thankful for, is completely disarmed by the editor's frank plea. He says, "There are others whose memoirs the editor would have liked to include; but concerning some of them he has not been able to obtain the requisite information; and some from motives of modesty, have requested that their names might not be inserted, and it would have been discourteous to refuse." The new editor, Mr Washington Moon, is not only courteous—perhaps disappointingly so to those among the modest who have "the pride that apes humility"—but he is full of pride in his gallery of biographies, which he introduces to the reader in a grandiloquent preface that should banish modesty evermore from their midst. The publishers of this work, which has now reached its thirteenth edition, are Messrs. Routledge and Sons.

PROFESSOR JAMES LONG bids us consider what refrigeration has done—not for agriculturists merely, but also for trade and commerce. It is refrigeration that has made it possible for New Zealand alone to send us four-and-a-half million carcases of mutton. It has even created that Colony's butter trade. It has, moreover, enabled our meat-salesmen in Smithfield to protect themselves, by a vast system of underground storage, against the heavy losses which they used to suffer from hot summers. It has also made it practicable for many great firms to buy meat and game when it is cheap, and store it for use when wanted. In Hamburg there is a butcher who slaughters a thousand pigs every day for the English market. But for refrigeration his system would be impossible. The advantages of cold storage, however, seem still far from being fully appreciated. Mr. Long tells us that the farmers in Wales and many parts of England who supply the market with what is known as "tub butter" at eight pence to eleven pence a pound might store it quite fresh at little more expense than that of the abundant salt used under the present system, and thus furnish an article worth in many cases from twenty-five to thirty-five per cent. more than they are now getting for it.

SOME one has said that the most respectable thing in connection with Marat's career was the fact that he was having a bath when he was killed by Charlotte Corday. Frenchmen do not all take this view of the redoubtable "Ami du Peuple," any more than they do of Danton and other Revolutionary leaders who have found so many apologists in recent times. The funniest piece of political whitewashing, however, is "Marat Inconnu," a new work by Dr. Cabanes. The author is a medical man, and he explains Marat's conduct and policy on strictly medical principles. Errors of omission, or of commission, are attributed to the intermittent fever from which Marat suffered for a considerable time immediately before his death. Naturally, Dr. Cabanes is very indignant with those who have asserted that Marat spoke certain words after the fatal blow was struck. Is not the result of the post-mortem examination, duly certified, still in existence to prove that the wound was of such a nature that death must have been instantaneous? This author proceeds to explain Marat's habit of taking a bath to an eruption of the skin, from which he was suffering. Was tubbing really so unusual an exercise in the France of the latter end of the eighteenth century?

THE London police are just now earnestly endeavouring to solve the mystery of a railway van. The story dates (writes the London correspondent of the Liverpool Post) from a week before the mail left when a horse and van belonging to the Great Eastern Railway Compay pulled up at a warehouse in the City, with the intention of delivering a portion of its consignment. The driver handed in his parcel, and waited whilst his receipt book was signed. He was only absent for a few minutes, but on his return he discovered, to his amazement, that the horse and van had disappeared. He ran up the street and down the street, enlisting the services of as many policemen as he could meet, but all in vain, the horse and van had disappeared into space. They have since been found, but the van had been looted, and diligent inquiry has failed to light upon any trace of the thief. It was a bad haul, inadequate to the daring with which this act of highway robbery in the centre of the City was carried out. The thief got, among other items, whole armsful of chromo-lithographs, some dozen fire-screens, and a sewing machine or two.

So long ago as the year 1883 the Mahamad of the Spanish and Portuguese Congregation of Bevis Marks Synagogue initiated a plan, which was warmly adopted by the Elders for the secularisation, with the prospect of great financial advantage, of the most venerable of their religious buildings in the country. The scheme was placed before the general body of the members of the congregation, who, in spite of indignant protests by some of the more devout, and after discussions which dragged themselves over a long period, agreed in March, 1886, to leave the subject in advance. A week or two ago the scheme was revived by the Mahamad and the Elders and warmly recommended to the general body. The suggestion, however, again gave rise to the most strenuous opposition, and after a short series of meetings a final special meeting of the congregation was held a couple of days ago, when by a decisive majority of votes the scheme was negatived, and, so far as present intentions can be judged, definitely abandoned.

APROPOS of recent events in New Orleans, it is notorious that the Italian at home has a very bad record with regard to deeds of violence. Compared with European countries, Italy stands highest in the list of homicides, its proportion of convictions for this crime in 1889 being 8·05 in every 100,000 inhabitants, while that of Austria was 2·15, Germany 0·80, and England 0·40. Taking other forms of sanguinary assault, Italy showed in the same year 226·06 convictions for every 100,000 inhabitants, while the ratio in Germany was 154·70 and in France only 71·62. Austria was, however, ahead of Italy in this class, its proportion being 285·19. The best that can be said for Italy in regard to these crimes of violence is that at one time they were even more numerous than they are now. Perhaps it may also be taken as a sign of progress in the ways of civilization that whereas highway robberies have diminished in number, offences against the bankruptcy laws have steadily increased. The carbine and the horse pistol are out of date.

THE KAMBEKAR STREET MURDERS.

YESTERDAY, at the Criminal Sessions of the High Court, Sir Charles Sargent, Chief Justice, and the same Special Jury, resumed the trial of Bachoo Hajee Abdoolla, a young Memon, on a chargo of murder by causing the deaths of five persons, in Kambekar Street, on the 22nd January last, by the administration of strychnia in their food; and a further charge of abetment of murder by inducing Dawood Abajee, a servant, to commit the murder of the five persons, the offence being committed in consequence of such abetment. The Hon. Mr. Latham, Advocate-General, with Mr. Basil Scott, instructed by the Public Prosecutor, appeared for the Crown; and Mr. Budroodin, with Mr. Anderson, instructed by Messrs. Thakoredas, Dharamsi, and Cama, appeared for the defence.

Further evidence was called for the prosecution.

Mainoodin Chundanlal said he was employed in the shop of Ismail, druggist, at Pydhownee. Four other servants were also in the same employ. Witness repeated the evidence given by him before.

Cross-examined by Mr. Budroodin, witness said: I knew Bachoo for two or three years before he purchased the strychnia at our shop. We have had dealings with him, of which entries were made in the shop books. Some musk was sold him about a week after the strychnia. The musk was sold on credit, and an entry was made in the books. The strychnia being sold for cash, no entry was made. It is not our custom to make entries of cash transaction. The shop is situated on the main road at Pydhownee at a short distance from the police station. Some strychnia was sold out of the bottle to an up-country hakim before it was sold to Bachoo. That was about eleven months ago. No entry appeared in the books about the sale when it was a cash transaction. Entries were made when articles were sold on credit.

Except your word, you have nothing to show that you sold the strychnia to Bachoo?—Yes, there was Ahmed present by me.

You have nothing in writing to show that you sold the strychnia?—Nothing in writing. I afterwards heard of the deaths in Bachoo's family. There was a great sensation caused by the deaths. I heard that the police were engaged in making enquiries as to the cause of the deaths. I had heard of the Coroner's inquest. As I knew that Ahmed was present at the sale of the strychnia to Bachoo, I did not talk of it to any other person. I did not talk of it either to Ahmed or any other person. On the first day I heard of the deaths in Bachoo's family; two or three days afterwards I heard that they died of poison.

And you did not talk of it to any one, but kept it a profound secret in your bosom?—I did not know that it was poison or medicine.

You know that it was a deadly poison?—I knew it was a poison and also a medicine. I had given it to Saiyadoo Meya as medicine. I did not know how much of it would kill a man.

The bottle is marked poison on the label in big characters?—Yes.

Now, knowing that it was a deadly poison, and having heard of the deaths, can you account for your not discussing the matter?—I had no talk about the matter.

Did not Ahmed speak to you about it?—No. My master was in Ahmedabad at the time of the sale. He returned to Bombay four or five days after the deaths.

Did you mention the fact of the sale of the strychnia to him, than?—No. Twelve or fifteen days after the deaths, Babajee Jamadar came to our shop. Nobody came before him. He said "come along with me with the accounts of Bachoo and Abdulla." He did not ask me if strychnia had been sold to Bachoo. I knew he had come to make enquiries in the matter.

You knew he came to find out if you had sold strychnia to Bachoo?—No. Ahmed was not present on the occasion. It was about 10 or 11 a. m. My Sett and Abdul Rahman went with the books to the police station. They returned in about an hour or an hour and a quarter. My Sett said "something is going on." In regard to Abdoola Noormahomed's account, Have you sold anything to Bachoo?" I then said to my master that I had sold to Bachoo strychnia of the weight of a silver two-anna piece, and some musk a few days afterwards.

Did your Sett then go and inform the police of the sale of the strychnia to Bachoo?—No.

Did you go and inform the police?—No.

Why not?—Because we had no license for the sale of poisons. I did not know what other things required a license for their sale. By the direction of my master, I hid away all the poisons in the shop, because we had no license. The other poisons were hid away in the shop. By direction of my master, I gave the bottle of strychnia to his mother. About fourteen days after I gave the bottle to my Sett's mother, the police came to search the shop and found the other poisons therein. They found the bottle of strychnia in the house of Ahmed. I made a statement before the Khan Bahadur at the Byculla police quarters. I had not been taken to the Khan Bahadur before this. The Khan Bahadur said to me he knew all about the matter and he desired me to tell the whole truth. I then confessed that there were poisons in the shop, that the bottle of strychnia was hidden away, and that out of it some had been sold to Bachoo.

That was the first time you confessed to the police?—Yes.

Why did you not do so before?—Because we had no license and were afraid of the police.

When did you mention Bachoo's name?—When he showed me the label of the strychnia bottle and asked me about it. I at once mentioned Bachoo's name.

You had not mentioned Bachoo's name to any person before this?—I had mentioned it to my master. I knew that Bachoo was in custody at that time.

When Bachoo came to the shop for the strychnia, I suppose he stood in the road?—He came and sat by me on a board. I did not mention to the Magistrate the sale of the strychnia to the up-country hakim.

Re-examined by Mr. Latham: The police searched my master's shop for poisons on the same day that I was examined before the Khan Bahadur. I had mentioned before the Coroner the sale of the strychnia to the up-country hakim and to Bachoo.

The Foreman: What was the size of the parcel that you handed to Bachoo?

Witness: It is the size.

The Foreman: Was the cupboard in which the strychnia was kept locked?

Witness: No.

The Foreman: And all the servants had access to it.

Witness: Yes.

The Foreman: What did Bachoo ask for when he came to the shop?

Witness: He mentioned the name "is-trych-nix."

The Foreman: If you cannot speak English, how did you make out the bottle?

Witness: The word strychnia is written on the label in Cordoo characters, which I can read.

The Foreman: Was the bottle always wrapped up in that paper?

Witness: Yes.

To the Chief Justice: I understand native weights. I sold to Bachoo one-eighth of a rupee, that is a tola.

Ahmed Saleymahomed generally corroborated the statements of the preceding witness.

Cross-examined by Mr. Budroodeen: I am a Memon and knew Bachoo. I heard of the deaths of the five persons on the morning following the event. I heard that the police were making enquiries. There were different rumours afloat.

Did you not hear that two of them were the father and uncle of Bachoo?—No. I heard three or four days afterwards that the deceased persons were relations of Bachoo. I did not know that Bachoo was suspected until his arrest. Was it not a topic of general conversation among the Memons?—Yes. They were Kutchee Memons, and I am a Hallai Memon.

Did you hear that the police were making enquiries?—Yes.

Did you tell anybody that you had sold strychnia to Bachoo?—No. When the police said that they knew all about the matter, and that I had sold the strychnia, I made a statement to the Khan Bahadur in the presence of my master, Maiynoodeen and others. It was on a Saturday about two months after the deaths. I had not told a single human being about the sale of the strychnia to Bachoo. I was questioned by the Khan Bahadur about the same time as Maiynoodeen. The bottle of strychnia was not shown to me or Maiynoodeen at that time. It was brought there afterwards the same day. Before the strychnia was sold to Bachoo, some was sold to Saiyadoo Meea, who was suffering from paralysis. I don't know of its sale to any other person.

Re-examined by Mr. Latham: When the police said that the bottle of strychnia was at my house, I admitted that it was in my box. Mr. Cobb and others accompanied me to my house. I took the bottle out of the box and went with it to the Byculla station, where Maiynoodeen was.

Abdul Rahman Jan Mahomed, who was employed in the shop of Ismail, the druggist, remembered having sold some musk to the prisoner on credit. There was an entry in the books. (Entry produced.) There was also an entry of five or six articles sold to Bachoo on credit about six months previously.

Cross-examined by Mr. Budroodeen: I have been employed twelve years in the druggist's shop. When the police first enquired, both I and my master said we had not sold my strychnia to Bachoo. Whenever the police came to the shop to make enquiries we always said that we had not sold any strychnia to Bachoo.

Re-examined by Mr. Latham.—I first heard at the Byculla police office that strychnia had been sold to Bachoo at Ismail's shop.

The Foreman: Were any sales of nux vomica made out of the shop about the same time as the strychnia.

Witness: No.

The Foreman: Was any nux vomica sold to Bachoo out of the shop?

Witness: No.

Hajee Ismail Cassum, the owner of the druggist's shop at Pydhownee, repeated the evidence he had given before the Committing Magistrate.

Cross-examined by Mr. Budroodeen: I have no licence for the sale of poisons. I have a small quantity of nux vomica in my shop. It is used by Memons for external application. I know now that strychnia is a deadly poison. I did not know of it before. My men would have sold it without asking my permission.

Chuggonlal Hargovun, a wakia in the employ of Hurjee Mooljee, a wholesale druggist, keeping a shop in Shaik Memon Street, produced an entry of the sale to Ismail Cassum, on the 21st December, 1889, of sundry goods, including a bottle of strychnia.

Jamsetjee Pestonjee Madon said he was once in the service of Hajee Saboo Seedik. At the request of Hajee Abdulla, witness caused to be inserted, in the Akhbare-Soudagar, an advertisement in which Hajee Abdulla notified that he would not be responsible for any debts contracted in his name by his son Bachoo.

Valla Narayen, a Marwaree pawn-broker, described the loans he had made to the prisoner, with interest in some instance at 30 per cent. interest on personal security, and on the security of ornaments. Demands were made for payment, which Bachoo put off on various excuses. A few days before his father's death, Bachoo said he would pay off the account in five or six days.

Cross-examined by Mr Budroodeen, witness said he did not know the purposes for which the monies were borrowed.

Ganesh Odeyram, a broker, said Bachoo owed him monies on account of his transactions in Government paper. Bachoo had given him a promissory note for Rs. 1,800, on the 27th September, 1889, in respect of the loss in Government paper.

Cross-examined: This is not a receipt given me by Bachoo in respect of a profit of Rs 1,800, which I paid to him. It is a promissory note for monies due to me. It is not usual to give receipts in respect of profits paid to customers.

Babajee Arjoon, police jemadar, repeated the evidence he had given before the Magistrate.

Cross-examined by Mr. Budroodeen: Mr Nolan and Mr. Cobb told me to take Dawood Abbajee to the chowkey. He was sitting there the whole of that day. He passed the night on the verandah of the chowkey. He was not a prisoner. The next day he was taken to the Byculla station, where he remained in a godown attached to the station. Between the 22nd January and the 3rd February, Dawood gave no information to the police regarding the deaths of the five persons. Bachoo and his wife were arrested on the 22nd February and were kept at Byculla, where they passed the night. On the 2nd February, Bachoo and his wife were placed before the Magistrate. Dawood was placed before him on the 3rd. On the 6th February, all the three were placed before the Magistrate. Dawood was not in custody from 22nd January to 3rd February. He was in custody from 3rd to 16th February. When Dawood went out for his meals, he was followed at a distance by a policeman without Dawood himself knowing of it. (Laughter.) That was up to the 3rd February. Ismail Cassum's was the first shop to which I went to make inquiries. I did not go there until the 14th February. I don't know whether any other policemen went out to make enquiries in the matter. I took two of the shopmen to Mr. Cobb at the Pydhownee chowkey, where they said they had sold no poison to Bachoo. I swear I did not ask them at the shop whether they had sold poison to Bachoo. Up to the 7th March, the police were making enquiries about the sale of poison to Bachoo.

Mr. Nolan, Inspector of Police, was the next witness called to confirm the statements of the last witness and to describe generally the appearance of the bodies of the five deceased persons. Saboo Seedick and the prisoner were there.

Cross-examined by Mr. Budroodeen: Bachoo did not give me a satisfactory answer as to where Dawood was.

Mr. Budroodeen: Did you receive certain information from Hajee Jackeria?

Mr. Latham said the question was not allowable under the law.

The Chief Justice disallowed the question.

Cross-examination continued: Dawood got a free pardon from the Magistrate, and made a statement on the 16th March.

At the rising of the Court Mr. Budroodin said he had several witnesses to call for the defence.

The Court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

NAUTCH PARTY TO THE HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE SCOTT.

In honour of the departure of the Honourable Mr. Justice Scott, who leaves Bombay to-day to assume his appointment as legal adviser to the Khedive, a large and influential gathering of native gentlemen assembled in Mr. Chatoorbhoj Morarjee's bungalow yesterday evening, at Tardeo, where the distinguished guest was entertained at a nautch party. The approaches to the bungalow were beautifully illuminated with buttees, while the interior of the magnificent hall was richly carpeted. There was accommodation for over two hundred guests, who began to arrive at about 5-30 p. m. and were received by Mr. K. M. Shroff and Mr. A. F. Turner. After the arrival of the guests of the evening the party were entertained to the singing of a trio of dancing girls. The following gentlemen were amongst those present:—Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, Bart., C.I.E., the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Telang, Sir Dinshaw Manockjee Petit, Bart., the Hon. Mr. Fazulbhoy Visram, the Hon. ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"

Is absolutely necessary for the Preservation of Health.

YOU CANNOT OVERSTATE ITS VALUE in keeping the BLOOD PURE; as a means of keeping the system clear, and thus taking away the ground-work of Malarious Diseases, BLOOD POISONS, and all Liver complaints, or as a HEALTH-GIVING, COOLING, and INVIGORATING BEVERAGE, or as a gentle Laxative or Tonic in the various forms of Indigestion, ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" is invaluable.

IT IS THE BEST PREVENTIVE AND CURE FOR

Biliousness.	Sick Headache.
Mental Depression.	Want of Appetite.
Skin Eruptions.	Pimples on the Face.
Constipation.	Vomiting.

SPARKLING AND REFRESHING DRAUGHT.—Notwithstanding its medicinal value, the "FRUIT SALT" must be looked upon as essential as breathing fresh air, or as a simple and safe beverage under ALL CIRCUMSTANCES, and may be taken as a sparkling and refreshing draught in the same way as Lemonade, Soda Water, Potass Water, &c., only it is much cheaper and BETTER, IN EVERY SENSE OF THE TERM, TO AN UNLIMITED EXTENT.

HEADACHE AND DISORDERED STOMACH.—After suffering two and a half years from severe headache and disordered stomach, and after trying everything, and spending much money without any benefit, I was recommended ENO'S "FRUIT SALT," and before I had finished one bottle I found it doing me a great deal of good, and now I am restored to my usual health; and others I know that have tried it have not enjoyed such good health for years.—Yours most truly, ROBERT HUMPHREYS, Post Office, Barrasford, England.

SAVED ME MUCH MISERY FROM FEVERS.—Two years' trial of your excellent "FRUIT SALT" has saved me much misery from colonial fevers, indigestion, and impaired appetite, to which I have been subject during eleven years' residence in the tropics. It is invaluable to travellers as a preventive of sea-sickness and a relief from other ailments. I would as soon think of going a voyage without my tooth-brush as my bottle of ENO'S "FRUIT SALT."—Yours, &c., W. J. B., British Guiana, Dec. 8, 1878.

HOT COUNTRIES.—ACIDITY OF STOMACH.—"I have used ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT,' and know it not alone to be excellent, but really invaluable. Especially in the hot countries of the East, where Acidity of the Stomach, Biliousness, and Fevers are so common."—J. M. PEEBLES, M.D., Author of Around the World, Travels in Polynesia, China, India, Arabia, Egypt, &c., &c.

IN CENTRE OF AFRICA WITHOUT ANY MEDICAL MAN.—"Natives came with all manner of diseases. One day we had a man that was said to be mad. Whether mad or not, he was far from well, and I gave him a large dose of ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT.' The poor fellow came back next morning to tell us that he was better. His breath was no longer offensive, and he looked cheerful. We were sorry when our supply of 'FRUIT SALT' was done; it was a favourite, both with natives and Europeans, and is much used along the malarious coasts."—Africana, by Rev. DUFF MACDONALD, M.A., B.D., Vol. II., p. 207.

"Ring out old shapes of foul disease,
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold,
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace."—Tennyson.

IMPORTANT TO ALL.

What every Travelling Trunk and every Household in the World ought to contain:—A Bottle of

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT,"

A Most Refreshing, Cooling, and Invigorating Beverage.

NO TRAVELLER SHOULD LEAVE HOME without a supply, for by its use the most dangerous forms of FEVERS, BLOOD POISONS, &c., are prevented and cured. It is, in truth, a FAMILY MEDICINE CHEST in the simplest yet most potent form. Instead of being lowering to the system, this preparation is, in the highest degree, invigorating. Its effect in relieving thirst, giving tone to the system, and aiding digestion, is most striking.

IT IS THE BEST PREVENTIVE AND CURE FOR

Giddiness.	Feverishness.
Thirst, &c.	Unnatural Excitement.
Impure Blood.	Errors in Diet.
Heartburn.	Liver Derangements.

PRESERVING AND RESTORING HEALTH.—ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" acts as simply yet just as powerfully, on the animal system as sunshine does on the vegetable world. It has a natural action on the organs of digestion, absorption, circulation, respiration, secretion, and excretion, and removes all impurities, thus preserving and restoring health.

TO PARENTS.—This preparation is invaluable in the nursery as a gentle laxative; it is pleasant to the taste, and much superior to senna or other nauseous drugs; it corrects the ill effects of over-eating or exhaustion, it is extremely beneficial in any feverishness or heat of the skin. The bowels ought to be kept free by the "FRUIT SALT" for a month or six weeks after eruptive diseases, as Measles, Scarlet Fever, Chicken-pox, Small-pox, and all Fevers or Infectious Diseases, &c.; for its use frees the system of the "dregs."

"THOUSANDS OF MILES IN INDIA."—ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" I have found of the utmost value in the hot and dry seasons, also in the monsoons. I have travelled thousands of miles in India, and in all the various changes of climate I have always found ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" the most refreshing beverage, especially after long heavy marches and other fatiguing duties to which the British soldier of late has been exposed. My dear wife, during her travail, found it to be the most useful thing that could be obtained. Yours, &c., a Warder, Central Military Prison, Poonah. Jan. 30, 1884.

STIMULANTS and insufficient amount of exercise frequently derange the liver. ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" is peculiarly adapted for any constitutional weakness of the liver. A world of woe is avoided by those who keep and use ENO'S "FRUIT SALT."—"All our customers for ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT' would not be without it upon any consideration, they having received so much benefit from it."—WOOD BROTHERS, Chemists, Jersey, 1878."

SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHER SALINES.—"Dear Sir,—Having been in the habit of taking your 'FRUIT SALT' for many years, I think it only right to tell you that I consider it a most invaluable medicine, and far superior to all other saline mixtures. I am never without a bottle of it in the house, as I find it possesses three most desirable qualities, namely, it is pleasant to the taste, promptly efficacious, and leaves no unpleasant after-effects.—A DEVONSHIRE LADY.—Jan. 25, 1889."

CAUTION.—Examine each bottle and see that the Capsule is marked ENO'S "FRUIT SALT." Without it you have been imposed on by a WORTHLESS IMITATION. Sold by all Chemists.

Old Bushmills Pure Malt Whiskey

Established 1784.

Distillery: Co. ANTRIM, IRELAND.

Head Offices: 1, HILL STREET, BELFAST.

First Prize Medal, Cork, 1883.
Diploma of Honour, Paris, 1886.
Gold Medal, Liverpool, 1886.
Highest Award, Adelaide, 1887.
ONLY GOLD MEDAL for Whiskey, PARIS, 1889.

BUSHMILLS WHISKEY is absolutely pure, nothing but the best Malted Barley being used in the manufacture.

Trade Mark. Take a little trouble to try Old Bushmills. It will be a more serious trouble afterwards to be noted for keeping the finest Whiskey round. To ensure purity it is advisable to get that bottled by the Company, the labels, capsules, and corks bearing their name. A dozen case contains two gallons.

OLD POT STILLS ONLY.

600 Opinions. 600

Edmund Yates,

"His Recollections & Experiences,"
Vol. I., page 251, says:—
I COULD not afford good wine, and would not give bad; but there was some Irish Whiskey which I procured through Mayne Reid ("BUSHMILLS" was its name), which was highly esteemed.
Writing in the World of Dec. 22, 1886, he says:—
MENTION made, in certain Reminiscences of mine, of a pleasant and wholesome alcoholic stimulant, called "Bushmills Whiskey," has led the proprietors of the famous Distillery to assure me that their alcohol is still extant in its pristine excellence, and, to confirm the assurance, send me a specimen of their produce. "All taps," we are assured by Mr. Stiggins, "is wanity;" but I am glad to find that a favourite "wanity" of my youth is as mellow and as innocuous as when first introduced to my notice by my old friend, Captain Mayne Reid.

W. Sinclair Thompson, M.D., F.R.C.S., writes from London—"I have appreciated your old Whiskey very much, and recommend it to my patients."

"Land and Water" says—"Of all spirits, Whiskey is the most wholesome, and one of the finest 'brands' of that spirit I have ever tasted is Old Bushmills."

"The County Gentleman" says—"Connoisseurs giving Old Bushmills a trial cannot fail to appreciate its mellowness and flavour."

"Licensed Victuallers' Gazette" says—"We have sampled specimens of Old Bushmills Whiskey, and are quite of our old friend Captain Mayne Reid's opinion, that it has no superior."

"The Court Circular" says—"Old Bushmills can be specially recommended for its exceptionally pleasant flavour."

PARIS EXHIBITION. OLD BUSHMILLS BEAT ALL. JUDGES AWARDED IT THE ONLY GOLD MEDAL FOR WHISKEY.

The Bushmills Company will be glad to hear from firms who keep their Whiskey, or who wish to keep it, so that their names may be added to this Advertisement if desired.

Rowland's Macassar Oil

Has been known for 100 years as the best preserver and beautifier of the hair: it prevents it falling off or turning grey, strengthens weak hair, and eradicates scurf and dandruff: it is unsurpassed as a brilliantine for the beard and moustaches, to which it imparts a soft and silky appearance; it is also sold in a golden colour for fair-haired children.

Rowland's Kalydor

A soothing and emollient milk for the face, and is recommended to the skin in hot climates; it removes freckles, tan, sunburn, roughness and redness of the skin, pimples, cutaneous eruptions, &c., and produces soft fair skin, and a lovely delicate complexion.

ROWLAND'S ESSENCE OF TYRE, a harmless preparation for dyeing red or grey hair a permanent brown or black. Ask chemists and druggists for Rowland's articles, of 20, Hatton Garden, London, England, and avoid worthless and injurious imitations.

CHASSAING'S
Bi-Digestive WINE with Pepsine & Diastase for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Vomiting, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Consumption, Gastralgia, Loss of Appetite, Constipation.

"This preparation of value is founded upon sound chemical and physiological principles. While pepsine is the natural solvent or digestive for nitrogenous aliments, it has little or no effect upon the feculent constituents which enter so largely into the composition of the food of man; and there is no doubt that some of the disorders of digestion arise from thereof assimilation of the starchy elements. Now the proper digestive for these is diastase; and in the bi-digestive wine, of M. Chassaing, these two most important principles, pepsine and diastase, are combined in suitable proportions." — See THE LANCET, July 27 th, 1872.

DR. DE JONGH'S

KNIGHT OF THE ORDER OF LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM
KNIGHT OF THE LEGION OF HONOUR

LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL

THE PUREST. THE MOST PALATABLE. THE MOST DIGESTIBLE. THE MOST EFFICACIOUS.

Incontestably proved by Thirty Years' Medical Experience to be The only Cod Liver Oil which produces the full curative effects in CONSUMPTION AND DISEASES OF THE CHEST, THROAT AFFECTIONS, GENERAL DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE SKIN, WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN, RICKETS, AND ALL SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

SIR G. DUNCAN GIBB, Bart., M.D., Physician to the Westminster Hospital.

"The value of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL as a therapeutic agent in a number of diseases, chiefly of an exhaustive character, has been admitted by the world of medicine; but, in addition, I have found it a remedy of great power in the treatment of many Affections of the Throat and Larynx, especially in Consumption of the latter, where it will sustain life when everything else fails."

DR. SINCLAIR COGHILL, Physician to the Royal National Hospital for Consumption, Ventnor.

"I have convinced myself that in Tubercular and the various forms of Strumous Disease, DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL possesses greater therapeutic efficacy than any other Cod Liver Oil with which I am acquainted. It was especially noted in a large number of cases in which the patients protested they had never been able to retain or digest other Cod Liver Oil, that DR. DE JONGH'S OIL was not only tolerated, but taken readily, and with marked benefit."

JOSEPH J. POPE, Esq., M.R.C.S., Late Staff Surgeon, Army, Professor of Hygiene, Birkbeck Institution, London.

"I found during my Indian experience that the worth and character of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL remained unchanged by tropical heat or foreign climate, and it was, from its uniformity of character, particularly adapted for long-continued administration. The value of 'hydro-carbons' in all debilitated states of the system is now becoming thoroughly recognized; and it is, without doubt, from the animal oils and fats, rather than from their vegetable substitutes, that we may hope to derive the surest benefit. The Oil of DR. DE JONGH places in everyone's reach a reliable and valuable remedy, one that cannot be too widely recognized."

DR. R. O. CROFT, Author of "Handbook for the Nursery."

"DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is almost a specific in many of the Diseases peculiar to Infancy and Childhood, and I have seen marked benefit produced by its use. Patients prefer it to the Pale Oils, and are able to retain it more comfortably."

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is supplied ONLY in IMPERIAL Half-Pints, Pints and Quarts, sealed with SETTLE'S Patent Capsule impressed on the top with DR. DE JONGH'S Stamp, and on the side with his Signature, and the Signature of ANSAR, HARFORD & Co.; and bearing under the wrapper a Label with the same Stamp and Signatures.

Dr. Lalor's Trade Mark PHOSPHODYNE is Registered under the Trade Marks Act for the INDIAN EMPIRE, and attested by the Seal of the Registrar Calcutta.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE.

For TWENTY FIVE YEARS has maintained its world-wide reputation as the ONLY SAFE RELIABLE PHOSPHORIC REMEDY ever discovered for the Permanent Cure of Brain Wreckage, Paralysis, Sleeplessness, Harassing Dreams, Premature Decay of Vital Power, and all Functional and Diseased Conditions of the System, dependent upon the Deficiency of the Vital Forces.

IT CURES Dyspepsia, Nerve, and Heart Disease.
CURES Kidney and Liver Complaints.
CURES all Blood Disorders.
CURES Consumption and General Debility.
CHECKS all Wasting of the Vital Forces, From whatever cause arising.

The EFFECT of this Standard PHOSPHORIC Remedy in Nervous Debility and its kindred Evils is immediate and permanent, all the Miserable Feelings and Distressing Symptoms disappearing with a rapidity that is Really Marvellous,

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE

Actually creates New Nervous Fluid and Brain Matter by supplying the Blood with its Electric Life Element—PHOSPHORUS, the very Core and Centre of the Brain itself, restoring the fullest and most vigorous conditions of Robust Health of Body and Mind, and whilst pleasant to the taste, never fails to Purify and Enrich the Blood, and thoroughly invigorate the Brain, Nerves, and Muscles. Its energising effects are shewn from the first day of its administration by a Remarkable Increase of Nerve and Intellectual Power, with a Feeling of Courage, Strength, and Comfort, to which the Patient has long been unaccustomed. Digestion is invigorated. The Appetite increases wonderfully. The bowels become regular. Sleep becomes calm and refreshing. The face becomes fuller, the Lips red, the Eyes brighter, the Skin clear and healthy, and the Hair acquires Strength, showing the importance of its action on the Organs of Nutrition.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, AND ENERGY.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE

is the only Medicine of the kind or name awarded a Certificate of Merit, at the Calcutta Exhibition, 1883-4, where all Countries were Exhibitors and the only Trade Mark—"PHOSPHODYNE"—Registered and Protected under the Trade Marks Act.

BEWARE OF VILE IMITATIONS!—None is genuine unless every bottle bears the British Government Stamp with the words "DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE, London, England," engraved thereon.

THOUSANDS of unimpeachable TESTIMONIALS from all parts of the World, and from the highest Medical Authorities, prove conclusively the Verdict Universal that, in the World of scientific research, no other Phosphoric Preparation has received such exalted praise and distinguished recognition.

Directions for the guidance of Patients in the Self-Treatment of the above diseases are enclosed with each Bottle.

Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne

Is a marvellous medicine for renovating impaired and broken-down constitutions. It operates on the system without exciting care or thought upon the individual as to the process. It moves the lungs, liver, kidney, stomach and intestines, with a harmony vigour, yet, mildness unparalleled in medicine.

Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne,

Gives back to the human structure, in a suitable form the phosphoric or animating element of life, which has been wasted, and at once imparts new energy and life to the enfeebled constitution.

Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne

Is patronized by Aristocracy and the Elite, extensively used in the Army and Navy, and highly recommended by the leading Medical Practitioners.

CAUTION.—DR. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE.

The ONLY Medicine of that name granted certificates by Her Majesty's Registrar of Trade Mark. Beware of VILE worthless Imitations made up to trade upon the Reputation of Dr. BRIGHT'S "PHOSPHODYNE." Therefore ask for Dr. BRIGHT'S and refuse Useless Substitute.

DR. BRIGHT'S WORLD-RENOWNED PHOSPHODYNE

Is sold in CASES at 6s. 6d. by all Medicine Vendors, throughout the Globe.

Full Directions for use in 16 Languages accompany each case.
